GERMANY'S ACTION RELAXES TENSION

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, Feb. 16.—A material lessening of the extreme tension in the international situation was apparent today. Germany's action in ordering the release of the Yarrowdale prisoners, and making material concessions by which Minister Whitlock can remain in Brussels and the Belgian relief be continued, has pleased officialdom.

That the Yarrowdale was on the verge of becoming a situation fraught with the most momentous consequences now is admitted. But officials say that the release of these men indicates a desire on the part of Germany to placate America.

In view of the fact that two American ships will be well within the prohibited zone by Sunday officials look on the concessions just made as a hopeful event. It is hoped that there will be no sinking of any of the American vessels now on the high seas unless in the manner permitted by international law. But it also is very freely admitted that in view of the German Emperor's order to the navy that the "submarines will stand in the front rank" in all operations now on the danger of an "overt act" must remain grave.

The question of arming American passenger liners was again scheduled for consideration at today's cabinet meeting. It was considered possible that an agreement would be reached whether the president would pass the responsibility along to congress or would wait for further developments. At today's cabinet meeting Secretary Lansing was prepared to present all of the communications which have been exchanged with Ambassador Penfield dealing with Austria's part in the present controversy.

Announcement that Halifax will be used as the port of search for vessels bound to Scandinavian and Holland ports has greatly pleased officials here. It means that the neutral liners now will resume their sailings as they will be enabled to reach their various ports without being subjected to the hazard of the German war zone. That this action was taken by Great Britain is a big diplomatic victory for Chevalier W. L. F. C. Van Rappard, the Netherlands minister. He pressed the question with the British and French ambassadors here and finally secured their co-operation with their home governments.

In connection with reports that President Wilson was endeavoring to secure the formation of a council of neutrals to work to end the war, officials close to the administration say that nothing of this sort has yet been done. The president stands on his original peace plan and believes that eventually it will have to be accepted by the European belligerents. And, if the present unrestricted use of the submarine fails to starve the British and French peoples, as now seems almost certain, then the president believes new peace overtures will be forthcoming.

BRITISH LOAN A HUGE SUCCESS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
London, Feb. 16.—The latest British war loan, subscriptions to which closed today, was a huge success, it is stated in official circles. Leading banks have practically been swamped with applications for participation in the "Loan of Victory" as it is called. The demand exceed expectations and bankers are now revising their estimates of the probable total.

In the city of Glasgow the subscriptions will likely reach the grand total of $500,000,000.

Millions of dollars worth of subscriptions were pledged in the United States. On Thursday, it is estimated, more than $1,000,000 of the loan was taken in the United States. One of the big American subscribers was J. Ogden Armour, of Chicago, who was credited with a subscription of $500,000.

The greatest loan advertising campaign in the history of England came to a end yesterday with a procession through the streets of London in which tens of thousands of men and women took part.

GERMAN RAIDER ESCAPES AGAIN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Rio Janeiro, Feb. 16.—British cruisers are continuing their search in the South Atlantic for German commerce raiders which escaped in the darkness after a battle off Fernando de Noronha, according to advices received here today. Reports of the fight are vague, some saying that only the British cruiser Amethyst took part and others that more than one warship engaged the raiders.

It is believed that three German ships were in the battle, which took the form of a running fight for two hours in the evening of February 2. Two of the raiders were badly damaged, it was said, and one is reported to have been beached in sinking condition.

GERMANY RELEASES AMERICAN SEAMEN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Amsterdam, Feb. 16.—Germany has released the American seamen taken into a German port on the prize ship Yarrowdale, says a dispatch from Berlin today.

The dispatch added that the men probably will be sent out of Germany by way of Holland or Denmark.

The Americans were among the crews of ships sunk or captured by the raider Moewe. They are said to number 72.

FOOD CRISIS CONFRONTS ITALY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Rome, Jan. 31, by mail to New York, Feb. 16.—The Italian government is taking steps to avert a food crisis. Already the situation is serious. There are now two meatless days a week and three days a week pastry may not be baked or sold.

The suggestion that the card system be introduced for the sale of sugar, butter and perhaps is under consideration.

The government outlined a program of restrictions and conservation in a circular letter which Minister of Interior Orlando has addressed to the prefects of every province. Simultaneously a nation-wide campaign has been started under the direction of Prof. Leonardo Bianchi, minister with portfolio, tending to secure the co-operation of every Italian housewife in the enforcement of the new rules regulating the distribution of foods. Food experts, called from every corner of the kingdom to act as advisors to the government in the solution of food problems, maintain that, owing to the rapid exhaustion of supplies and the impossibility of restoring them, the internal situation will grow daily worse unless the means are found to deal effectively with the submarine in order to put a stop to the daily sinking of ships laden with cereals, coal and other necessities.

According to the experts there is no immediate fear of a famine, yet the steady increase in the cost of living and the rapid disappearance from the market of sugar, butter, eggs and fats are unmistakable signs of an approaching food crisis unless the problem is solved.

In a public statement Signor Canepa, a member of the chamber of deputies, said that the government is contemplating a series of drastic food regulations in order to avoid undue waste. One of the new regulations, it is said, will be the further restrictions in the consumption of meat.

According to statistics supplied by the commissary department of the general staff, the number of cattle now butchered for the exclusive use of the army has been reduced from ninety thousand to sixty thousand per month and the daily consumption of meat has been lowered from 150 tons to 600 tons.

An idea of the food strain placed upon the country may be gained from the fact that the feeding of the army requires that 1,500 tons of bread be baked every day; in addition 300 tons of rice and macaroni, 200 tons of cheese and 150 tons of potatoes must be cooked.

The people are gladly submitting to the food privations and so far no disorders have occurred.

AMERICAN LINERS PROBABLY SAFE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Feb. 16.—Word was received here today that the American liner Philadelphia sailed from Liverpool for New York on Wednesday. This was the second passenger ship of American ownership to leave Liverpool since Germany's ruthless submarine war was inaugurated on Feb. 1. Of the 95 passengers on the Philadelphia 38 are Americans.

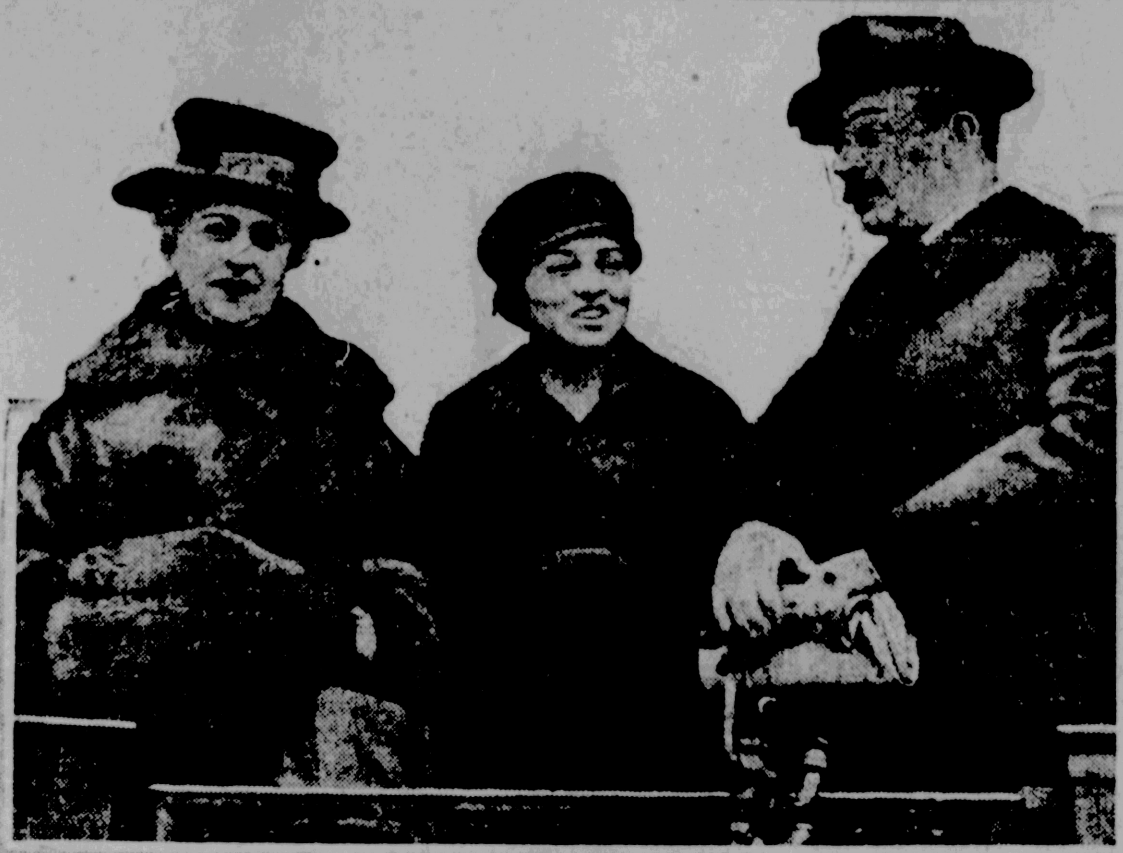

Several Americans cancelled their passage at the last moment. The Philadelphia is unarmed.

The first American passenger ship to leave Liverpool after the new "U-boat war" was declared was the New York. She sailed on Feb. 3 with 271 passengers and raced safely through the submarine zone.

It was estimated here at noon that unless held up for some reason, the Philadelphia had travelled about 800 miles, which would put her beyond the danger zone.

In Germany's declaration of a drastic submarine war she pointed out the following conditions under which American ships might ply between the United States and England:

- 1.—That the port of destination is Falmouth;
- 2.—That a certain route should be followed;
- 3.—That the steamers be marked in a special way with white and red and carry two flags;
- 4.—That one steamer a week sailing, with arrival at Falmouth on Sunday and departure from Falmouth on Wednesday.

STOCK MARKET GAINS AND RECEDES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 16.—A higher level was established for nearly all the prominent issues in the early trading on the stock exchange today, but the gains were not maintained and before the end of the first half hour's trading the usual recessions occurred. Steel Common rose $\frac{1}{4}$ to 10 $\frac{1}{2}$, and reacted to 10 $\frac{1}{4}$. American Beet Sugar sold ex twelve cent dividend to 90 $\frac{1}{2}$, a net gain of $\frac{1}{2}$, but later reacted to 89 $\frac{1}{2}$. Marine Pfd. advanced to 68, and then declined to 67 $\frac{1}{2}$. Central Leather continued in demand and rose $\frac{1}{2}$ to 86 $\frac{1}{2}$. Inspiration Copper gained $\frac{1}{2}$ to 55 $\frac{1}{2}$, and then reacted to 54 $\frac{1}{2}$. The railway issues were again heavy, Union Pacific declining from 137 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 136 $\frac{1}{2}$. Lehigh Valley declined $\frac{1}{4}$ to 71 $\frac{1}{2}$.

Various groups of stocks moved in opposite directions during the late forenoon, with the railway issues under pressure. New Haven dropped from 38 to 36 $\frac{1}{2}$, a new low record. Lehigh Valley, which closed yesterday at 72 $\frac{1}{2}$, dropped to 70 $\frac{1}{2}$, and Erie declined from 26 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 25 $\frac{1}{2}$. Union Pacific sold around 136 $\frac{1}{2}$. The copper shares generally showed fractional gains. The Marine issues were exceptionally strong, the preferred selling at 68 $\frac{1}{2}$. Money loaning at 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

FIRE HYDRANTS FOUND FROZEN

Excessive Cold Weather of Past Few Days Caused Trouble With Hydrants—Men Kept Busy Thawing Them Out.

The excessive cold weather of the past few days has caused some trouble with the city fire hydrants and Superintendent Harrison, of the water board, has had his men busy thawing out several of them which were found frozen. The cold weather has driven the frost into the ground to a depth of five feet, and the fire hydrants have been found frozen at that depth.

All of the fire hydrants in the city are being tested under the direction of Superintendent Harrison so that in case of fire no difficulty will be experienced in getting water from the hydrants. In some parts of the city frost has been found in the ground to a depth of seven feet.

With more moderate weather than has been experienced, the water board expects no further trouble with the fire hydrants.

BOB VEAL SEIZED BY DR. CLARKE

Of Course No One Knew Who Owned the Carcasses Which Were Destroyed by His Orders—Where it Goes to.

Thursday evening Dr. Harold Clarke, inspector of the board of health, paid a visit to Siller's slaughter house downtown, and found two bob veal, which had been slaughtered and dressed and were hanging on a hook in the slaughter house. One carcass weighed 25 pounds and the other about 23 pounds. The skins had also been removed from the carcasses. Dr. Clarke had the bob veal removed and destroyed.

As is usual in bob veal cases no one seemed to know who the owner of the carcasses was. An investigation is being made.

It is understood that veal is bringing 24 cents a pound wholesale in New York city for the carcass dressed without the skin, and that most of the veal brought into Kingston is slaughtered and dressed and shipped to the big city. An active effort will be made to round up all guilty of slaughtering bob veal for food purposes, and have them arrested. The general excuse in the past has been that the bob veal were simply slaughtered for their skins and that the carcass was not sold for food.

Misunderstanding About Lecture.

It appears that a recent item in The Freeman, announcing a lecture by Dr. Samuel McChord Crothers in the high school auditorium on March 29, created an impression that a dollar would be charged to hear the lecture. The price which the senior class, who have engaged Mr. Crothers, intend to charge was not mentioned in that article however, but is 35 cents for adults, 20 cents for students or children. The people who thought a dollar would be charged to hear the renowned speaker, and who yet thought of going, will, it is hoped by the seniors, come and bring a couple of friends to enjoy the treat with them.

The high school press is printing the tickets in sufficient quantity to fill the hall. The senior class hopes at least to dispose of one thousand tickets as it is no easy matter to arrange a date with a world famed gentleman such as Mr. Crothers is.

EXPOSURE FATAL TO CAPT. SATTERLEE

Staff Officer Contracted Pneumonia on Trip to Kingston and Ashokan Reservoir Last Sunday—Brother of Herbert L. Satterlee.

Captain Richard Sherwood Satterlee, ordnance officer on the staff of Major General O'Ryan, died Thursday morning at his home, No. 102 East Eighty-sixth street, New York city, as the result of exposure connected with military duty in this vicinity on Sunday. In company with Major Allen L. Regan of the general staff, Captain Satterlee spent Saturday, Sunday and Monday inspecting the National Guard on duty along the Catskill aqueduct and Ashokan reservoir. On Sunday the officers dined at The Straycat. During the day one of the drive chains of their automobile became entangled with the brake and while repairing the brake Captain Satterlee contracted a severe cold which later developed into pneumonia.

Captain Satterlee was in his fifty-seventh year. He was born in New York city and was a son of the late George B. Satterlee and a brother of Herbert L. Satterlee. He was educated in St. Paul's School, Concord, and at Holbrook's Military Academy. In 1878 he graduated at the College of Physicians and Surgeons and afterward went to Wyoming where he spent several years on a ranch. On his return to New York he engaged in the real estate business and was appointed deputy tax commissioner during Mayor Strong's administration. He served during the Spanish American War and later was appointed by Governor Roosevelt a first lieutenant in the Twelfth New York Regiment, with which organization he went to Cuba and served in the Army of Occupation. On his return to New York he joined the Habirshay Wire Company of which he became president in 1911, and on the reorganization of the company into the Habirshay Electric Cable Company he became vice-president.

FORESTRY SUBJECT OF FIVE LECTURES

Prof. Baker of Syracuse University to Speak in Kingston on February 28th Under Rotary Club Auspices—Dates of Other Ulster Meetings.

Arrangements have just been completed between the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse and a number of Granges, high schools and the Kingston Rotary Club for a series of forestry lectures in Ulster county. Professor J. Fred Baker of the college will speak on Monday, February 26, before the Lake Katrine Grange; on February 27 he will talk to the high school in Ellenville; on the evening of the 28th he speaks under the auspices of the Kingston Rotary Club in the high school auditorium; on March 1 he will address the Stone Ridge Grange in the evening and will close his week's work with an illustrated lecture before the Marlborough high school on the evening of March 2. Professor Baker will use colored lantern slides to illustrate his lectures and will speak especially on the chance for profitable management of the farm woods. In his lectures he will explain the operation of the Wood Utilization Service which has been of great help to farmers and wood-users in the state in disposing of their products at a profit. This service is maintained free of charge by the state college.

Professor Baker points out that the areas of native timber in Ulster county have splendid possibilities for producing a good money return if properly handled. It is only in late years that the lumber industry has considered it necessary to advertise and push their commodity on the market. This is even more true with the original producers of timber in the log. Demand for wood lot products has never been considered very poor and no effort has been made to increase the sale of such material as now occupies the ground at a loss to the owner. The result has been stagnation in growth, due to crowded and diseased conditions. According to Professor Baker this condition can be remedied. By a little judicious advertising and the application of simple forestry methods certain areas of waste and worn out land in the county may also be put to work growing trees at a very small outlay and the prospects for a good return from the investment are excellent even though the soil is of very poor quality.

The foresters from Syracuse are in the midst of a busy winter of extension work. During the severe season the activities along extension lines are confined to lectures before various organizations in the state and to the answering of numerous inquiries which come to the college continually concerning the best management of waste and wooded areas. As the spring opens up a number of planting projects are supervised by the college each year at the various public schools on Arbor Day. Twenty schools took advantage last spring of the offer which the Syracuse authorities make to supervise and help arrange the work of the forest planting day to take the place of the ordinary Arbor Day exercises. An increasing interest among all classes of people has shown that there is a real need for additional work in forestry throughout the state.

COLUMBUS FEARS ANOTHER RAID

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Columbus, N. M., Feb. 16.—The whole border was aflame with excitement today. Fearing new outrages by Mexican bandits reported encamped only a short distance south of the international boundary, ranchers were summoning cowboy reinforcements. More troops were ordered into the Hachita country where the bodies of three Mormon cowboys executed by bandit raiders were found and unusual activity was displayed at army headquarters here.

It was said early today that no orders have yet been received for American troops to cross the border in pursuit of the Miranda bandits who killed Andrew P. Peterson, Hugh Acord and Burton Jensen, but that cavalry detachments sent into the "Corner Ranch" region last night probably will cross if they pick up a hot trail.

No word has been received from the detachment of fifty cowboys who rode southward through the "Corner Ranch" yesterday morning to avenge the death of three Mormons. They were heavily armed and are believed to have crossed the border bent on wiping out the bandits responsible for the Hachita outrage.

Whether new bandit forces sighted on the Mexican side of the border southwest of Columbus are part of the Villista forces of General Salazar was not known to military authorities here today. Army fliers took the air several days ago when Salazar's activities were reported to headquarters but it is understood found no trace of his forces. Salazar's reported threat to raid border towns and ranches is causing no great uneasiness here because sufficient troops are stationed in this locality to repel raiders. Ranchers, however, fear attacks by small parties of bandits at isolated points.

With the recollection of the Columbus raid in mind, Columbus citizens today were preparing to make the grief of the families of the Mormons killed near Hachita, according to messages received from there today, and a large party of Columbus citizens will attend the triple funeral.

WHY HE WAS A DOWNTRODDEN MAN

Married Man Tells Recorder Lang That His Wife Would Even Let Him Name the Children—Recorder Lang Delivers Homily on Married Life.

"Why I have not got a thing to say in my own house," complained a married man to Recorder Lang this morning at the city hall.

"How is that?" queried the court.

"We have three children, and my wife would not even let me name one of them," replied the m. m.

Recorder Lang smiled and told the m. m. that he had generally found that it was the wife who named the children in the majority of families.

The m. m. and his spouse have not been agreeing together as well as they ought to, and so both paid a visit to the city hall today to talk over their troubles with the recorder.

Each had a long list of difficulties. The wife complained that her husband would not give her any money, but did all the purchasing for the house, and she thought that he should be directed to pay her money each pay day.

Recorder Lang said that there was no provision in law compelling a man to pay his wife money, but that he should support and clothe her in comfort according to his circumstances. He said that while there was no law compelling a man to pay his wife money, yet he thought it would be good policy to do so, and that it would take a lot of unnecessary work from a man's shoulders if he did not have to buy the groceries for the house, but let his wife attend to it.

"Do I have to support by mother-in-law?" piped up the m. m. plaintively at this point.

The court informed him that under the law he did not have to do so, but it might be good policy to do so.

The wife said that she had done everything to please her husband and had even worked out in the garden the past summer. At that statement the m. m. shrugged his shoulders and said it was not so, and brought up the point that he had nothing to say in his own house and related the incident of naming the children to prove it.

The first American passenger ship to leave Liverpool after the new U. S. boat war was declared was the New York. She sailed on Feb 3 with 21 passengers and raced safely through the submarine zone.

It was estimated here at noon that unless held up for some reason the Philadelphia had travelled about 300 miles, which would put her beyond the danger zone.

In Germany's declaration of a drastic submarine war, he pointed out the following conditions under which American ships might ply between the United States and England.

1.—That the port of destination is Falmouth.

2.—That a certain route should be followed.

3.—That the steamers be marked in a special way with white and red lights.

4.—That one steamer a week sailing with arrival at Falmouth on Sunday and departure from Falmouth on Wednesday.

COLUMBUS FEARS ANOTHER RAID

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Columbus N. M. Feb 16.—The whole border was aflame with excitement today. Learning new outrages by Mexican bandits reported encamped only a short distance south of the international boundary ranchers were summoning cowboy reinforcements. More troops were ordered into the blanchita country where the bodies of three Mormon cowboys executed by bandit raiders were found and unusual activity was displayed at army headquarters here.

It was said early today that no orders have yet been received for American troops to cross the border in pursuit of the Muranda bandits who killed Andrew P. Peterson, Hugh Acord and Burton Jensen but that cavalry detachments sent into the Corner Ranch region last night probably will cross if they pick up a hot trail.

No word has been received from the detachment of fifty cowboys who rode southward through the Corner Ranch yesterday morning to avenge the death of three Mormons. They were heavily armed and are believed to have crossed the border bent on wiping out the bandits responsible for the blanchita outrage.

Whether new bandit forces sighted on the Mexican side of the border southwest of Columbus are part of the Villista forces of General Salazar was not known to military authorities here today. Army officers took the air several days ago when Salazar's activities were reported to headquarters but it is understood round no trace of his forces. Salazar's reported threat to raid border towns and ranches is causing no great uneasiness here because sufficient troops are stationed in this locality to repel raiders. Ranchmen, however, fear attacks by small parties of bandits at isolated points.

With the recollection of the Columbus raid in mind Columbus citizens today were preparing to make the grief of the families of the Mormons killed near blanchita their own. Arrangements are being made to bring the bodies to blanchita according to messages received from there today, and a large party of Columbus citizens will attend the triple funeral.

FORESTRY SUBJECT OF FIVE LECTURES

Prof. Baker of Syracuse University to Speak in Kingston on February 22nd Under Rotary Club Auspices.

Arrangements have just been completed between the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse and a number of Kingston high schools and the Kingston Rotary Club for a series of forestry lectures in blanchita county. Professor J. Fred Baker of the college will speak on Monday, February 26, before the late Kingston Grange on February 27 he will talk to the high school in Ellenville on the evening of the 28th he speaks under the auspices of the Kingston Rotary Club in the high school auditorium on March 1 he will address the Stone Ridge Grange in the evening and will close his week's work with an illustrated lecture before the blanchita high school on the evening of March 3.

Professor Baker will use colored lantern slides to illustrate his lectures and will speak especially on the value of forest products, management of the forest woods. In his lectures he will explain the operation of the Wood Utilization Service which has been of great help to farmers and wood users in the state in disposing of their products at a profit. This service is maintained free of charge by the state college.

Professor Baker points out that the area of active timber in blanchita county is a splendid possibility for producing a good money return if properly handled. It is only in late years that the lumber industry has consolidated its interests to advertise and push their commodity on the market. This is even more true with the original producers of forest products than it is with the lumber and wood products.

It is understood that the forest is a source of wealth and that the lumber industry has consolidated its interests to advertise and push their commodity on the market. This is even more true with the original producers of forest products than it is with the lumber and wood products.

LATEST FROM FORT DITTUS

Ireland Corners, Fort Dittus, Feb. 14.—A very enjoyable time was held at Fort Dittus barracks on the eve of Valentine's Day. The apples were furnished by several of the firm of Wright, Scriven & Wright and they were some apples.

Private Burger was unable to patrol his post, which is known as No. 3, on account of the heavy storm which lasted about five minutes, and substituted little Cheschire in his place on account he would not sink so deep in the snow.

Lance Corp. Keator received $1 today and he is missing from the barracks and we hope he will return.

The busiest man about Fort Dittus is Mechanic Brown. He is building moving vaults. Private Brown has constructed these so they may be used as sleds when not used for their original purpose.

Private S. Basch says he will not eat any more pork unless it is kosher, so he was seen cutting up the beef so they could not fool him.

Bugler Saxe expects to deliver an address at the public school at Newburgh in the near future.

The telephone was installed yesterday and Corp. Decker (the old sailor) is seen calling up the New Palz operator every minute for the correct time. It seems to us the corporal's watch stops often.

The Schuberg Brothers, the world renowned harmonica players, entertain us every night with their playing and we wonder if Louis Schuberg's sweetheart enjoys the song entitled "Will You Miss Me When I'm Gone," which he is constantly playing at night around the time that taps are blown.

Some one stole our only mirror at the barracks so Private James Howard is kept very busy as the boys use his bald pate when they want to sneeze, up a bit to go to town. The painters were in action last night for when Private James Howard woke up this morning he found an iron cross painted on his bald pate by Artist Corporal Van Aken. A bottle was found outside and we hope that Private Simmons has not taken poison.

Campbell & Clark Contracting Company are busy repairing the hot air furnace. Musician Schupp and Serg. Duncan, who have claimed the championship at cards here, were defeated by Sergeant Luedtke and Corp. Van Aken. The musician and sergeant are seen in a private room every hour now practicing and hope to have their revenge shortly.

While Corp. Van Aken was posting the guard at 1 a. m. he was suddenly brought to a halt. After a thorough investigation he discovered it was a pole cat.

J. Millard & Son, agent for the Ford car, called detachment two to have Sergeant Duncan to have a leave of absence to replace a nut on a Ford. Private Reed, following out a suggestion of Captain Cranston, M. C., took a snow bath. The outcome was that he has a severe cold.

Sergeant Luedtke is making a bit with the country maids, with his tender and soothing voice. He has many engagements to render selections for coming events, within a radius of five miles. Sergeant Miller has a beautiful red nose. He claims the heat of the February sun caused it.

Corporals Brophy and Markle are caught up on domestic science. Private Britelliffe on return to Kingston will make application to the Triangle Moving Picture Company, as he was voted by the girls to be the handsomest soldier at the Epworth League social.

The men when cleaning their guns mistake Private Miller as a gun cleaner. Corporal Roach is using the hunt system on the company's typewriter in the captain's office.

GRANITE.

Granite, Feb. 15.—Caleb Crose and Alvah Smith attended the horse sale at Kingston Tuesday.

Miss Ruby M. Smith is visiting friends in Walden.

Mrs. Cornelius Markle and Mrs. William Turner were the guests of their mother, Mrs. Frances Decker, on Thursday last.

Mrs. Alvah Smith and son, Clifford, were Kerhonkson visitors Monday and Tuesday morning.

While delivering milk to the creamery at Kerhonkson the fine team of horses of John Addis of this place became frightened by the 8:35 train and ran away, throwing Mr. Addis out the sleigh, and went down Fordmore avenue on a mad run leaving the wagon box and milk cans along the way. They were caught near the barn of the late Mr. Carman. Slight damage to the sleigh and one horse. We would advise John to be more careful with his colts in the future.

The Ladies' Aid social which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Addis, Jr., Saturday evening was well attended. Music and singing were well enjoyed by all. During the evening refreshments were served at 10:30. All reported having a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Turner entertained a number of their friends on Wednesday, February 14, in honor of Mr. Turner's birthday.

A sleighload from this place went to Accord Monday night and was entertained at the home of Eli Addis and family.

Fred and Harold Decker attended the surprise party at the home of their brother, George, and wife at Kerhonkson Saturday night.

Those who have been suffering from bad colds are Mrs. Eugene Slater and Floyd Decker.

Mrs. Frances Decker and daughter, Rhoda, and Herbert Hasbrouck were pleasant callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hook Sunday evening.

Increase Green, Jr., is spending some time with his parents at Hilldale.

Mrs. Rosetta Decker called on Mrs. W. D. Sheldon Tuesday, who is ill.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

An Ever Popular Model.

1868—Girls' Sailor Blouse Dress, with or without Yoke Facing, and with Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths.

This design is good for linen, plaid and other novelty suitings, for serge, gabardine, galatea, gingham and percale. The yoke and collar could be of contrasting material. In blue serge, with a simple trimming of black braid, this would make an ideal school frock. The long sleeve has a group of tucks at the wrist. The short sleeve is finished with a neat cuff. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. It requires 5 yards of 44 inch material for a 12 year size. The cap illustrated with this dress is made from Pattern 1859. It is cut in 3 sizes: Children's (3 to 8 years), Girls' (10 to 14 years) and Misses' (16 to 20 years), and requires 3/4 yard of 27 inch material for the girls' size.

This illustration calls for TWO separate patterns, which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents FOR EACH pattern in silver or stamps by The Freeman Pattern Department. Be sure to state size wanted.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

True love is better than glory, and a tranquil fireside, with the woman of your heart seated by it, the greatest good the gods can send us.—Thackeray.

GOOD DISHES.

For the vegetarian, mince pies made in the ordinary way are not liked, but the following made of fruits cannot be objectionable:

Vegetarian Mince Pie.—Mix a quarter of a pound of candied cherries, half a pound of citron and orange peel, a quarter of a pound of blanched almonds, chopped fine; a level teaspoonful of cinnamon, four tablespoonfuls of sugar, the grated rind of a lemon, the juice of two oranges, one cupful of crumbs, a teaspoonful of salt. Add sufficient orange or grape juice to moisten. Use the crumbs only as it is ready to use.

Deviled Oysters.—Drain and wash fifty oysters. Throw them into a hot saucepan and shake until the ruffles are well curled, using the liquor. Take out the oysters, saving the liquor and chop them fine with a silver knife. Rub together four tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour; add the oyster liquor and sufficient milk to make a pint; stir until boiling, add the oysters, two beaten eggs, a teaspoonful of salt and a dash of cayenne. Reheat quickly without boiling and serve on squares of buttered toast.

Swedish Apple Cake.—Make a thick sweetened apple sauce. Fry bread crumbs in butter. Put a layer of crumbs in a baking dish, cover with apple sauce, cinnamon, and repeat until the dish is full. Have the last layer crumbs. Bake slowly and turn out and cool. Serve cold, covered with whipped cream.

Supper Dish.—Take a few stalks of celery, half a Spanish onion, minced fine and simmered in salted water until tender. Season with paprika, white pepper and two-thirds of a cupful of cheese that has been finely shaved, then add a beaten egg, a tablespoonful of butter and a half-teaspoonful of sugar. Beat all together briskly for a few minutes and serve on thinly-sliced, new bread.

Quick Apple Pie.—Add a flavoring of cinnamon and butter to a well-flavored apple sauce, stir in three-fourths of a cupful of crumbs, and when well absorbed put into a baked pie shell; cover with a meringue and brown in the oven. This is a most wholesome and delicious pie.

KINGSTON, N. Y., FEB 16, 1917.

Kingston has a well organized military company now performing active service for the state. During its absence families of some members may suffer hardships which it will become the privilege of citizens to relieve. True philanthropy is most effective when accomplished quietly. Neither those who give nor those who receive should be heralded with brass bands. "To whom much is given, of them will much be required." On the other hand, the service now being performed by the usual bread-winner, if for no other reason, entitles the recipient to the veil of secrecy. This double-barreled plan has been followed up to date; any other plan cannot succeed. Those who give should not and probably do not wish to be likened to the Pharisee whose good deeds were blazoned that the door might be admired of men,—of their means they are required by their conscience to give liberally. Equally applicable to the owner of great wealth as to the man of modest means is the phrase of a famous American poet who said: "Not what we give but what we share, for the gift without the giver is bare." The United States is facing a military situation whose seriousness or duration cannot be estimated. To force philanthropy and advertise charity is to bring to the boiling point the blood of every red-blooded American citizen, aside from the lasting demoralizing effect. True philanthropy should flow as unresisted, as free and as pure as the spring in the mountain-side, and the path to the spring should be well guarded. The spring should have many sources, which also should not be without guards. The feeders should be both big and little. A practical way to provide a fund for soldiers' relief which would not be burdensome and might be welcomed by many would-be givers whose modesty of contributions now withholds them from giving would be a weekly payment system regulated to the giving ability of the donor. Ten cents, fifteen cents, twenty cents, a quarter, half dollar or dollar a week, pledged indefinitely—as such a pledge should be—would provide a fund in which everyone could share and whose size would be a dependable resource on which any committee could rely for necessities either for the soldiers or their families which were indicated by Captain Meagher, the man in the best position to know the facts and circumstances surrounding each case, and sharing a fund secured in such a manner would be far more acceptable to those required to draw upon it. Such a fund would not relieve anyone of the requirement to give according to his means, nor would it shut out any contribution because of its humble size. Insurance companies, banks, publishers of magazines and books have found the weekly payment plan successful because it appeals to persons of all sizes of incomes. Why wouldn't it be successful in providing a systematic and dependable source for the soldiers' fund?

It is customary and proper to cry out against the grafter who cheats the public, but the meanness of the species is to be found in private life, the grafter who grafts upon the time of others. The telephone has furnished a new avenue of approach for all such. It is now a simple matter to connect up with an unsuspecting victim and by dint of a little flattery and by-play, outline a course of action which said victim usually follows in a desperate endeavor to rid himself of the telephone pest. Among offenders in this direction are some of the members of the clergy of the city who in their anxiety to serve God, not only seek publicity as is perfectly proper, but go to the trouble of telephoning in messages of interminable length just at a time of day when the daily news current is at "peak load." Not only are such practices inconsiderate, but they constitute a serious source of damage and delay to any editorial organization. It is not that the notices are unwelcome but rather it is the manner and time of their transmission that offend. A little forethought and these items could be written out and mailed or sent in to reach the department for which they are intended in plenty of time for publication. Co-operation is becoming a much used word of late. We desire to call it to the attention of the clergy and others as surpassing even charity in some of its direct benefits.

It is not related what the King of France and his ten thousand men thought of the usefulness of their excursion up and down the hill. At any rate they may have benefited from the exercise. It is the same with the heights of legislation unwittingly scaled by agile aidmen in the more recent phases of the church-theater controversy. Their descent, effected by the executive branch of city government, was as graceful as the ascent was rapid. Now that we are back on common ground, it may not be amiss to venture a few reflections. The dilatory tactics of the city fathers are not altogether responsible for the delays in recording definite action on the question. The preliminary position of the petitioners, who had an idea of what they wanted but apparently had no workable plan for accomplishment, shares largely in the responsibility. Their experience should be a lesson to them and to others who clamor for a reform without being able to define their demands so that they may be included in a comprehensive ordinance. There should be some benefit accruing from all the exercise, vocal, instrumental and pedal which thus far has constituted the sole achievement in this clash between church and theater.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

Ethel—"How many times do you make a young man propose before you say yes?" Muriel—"If you have to make him propose you'd better say yes the first time."—Puck.

City Girl—"That hen is acting very queerly, just as though she were hatching a plot." Country Maiden—"On the contrary, she is plotting a hatch."—Baltimore American.

"There is remarkable enthusiasm over prohibition." "Yes," replied Mr. Chuggins, "it looks to me as if the old water wagon had been speeded up for a regular joy ride."—Washington Star.

An English militant crusader stroiled into a barn where a young man was milking a cow. With a snort she asked: "How is it that you are not at the front, young man?" "Because, ma'am," answered the milker, "there ain't no milk at that end."—Boston Transcript.

Truly Deliberate.

In a certain southern city there lives a bachelor, whom we will call Mr. Jack C—, who had the reputation of being the slowest man in town. Indeed, his friends doubt whether any other town can produce a man who could compete with him in deliberation.

One night in the autumn, just at the time when country dwellers are bothered by the wasps that come into the house to seek protection from the cold, Mr. Jack C— and his cousin, Mr. Jack M—, who is of a very different temper, stopped overnight at a farmhouse where they had to share a double bed. Upon retiring, Mr. Jack M— promptly fell into a doze, from which he was shortly roused by the restless movements of his bed mate. He growled out:

"What's the matter, Jack?"

To which he received the drawing reply:

"I belle-e-ve, Jack, there's a wa-a-sp in this bed."

"You just imagine there's a wasp in the bed," was the sharp rejoinder. "Keep still and go to sleep."

His companion subsided, and Mr. Jack M— fell into another refreshing doze. About five minutes later his cousin's drawing voice penetrated his consciousness:

"Jack, there is a wa-a-sp in this bed."

"No such thing! Shut up and let me sleep!" was the reply, in a wrathful voice.

There was quiet for a short time. Then Mr. Jack C— spoke again, and his voice had a rising inflection.

"Ja-a-ack, I tell you, there's a wa-a-sp in this bed."

"For heaven's sake, Jack, shut up! There isn't any wasp in the bed. Keep still and let me sleep!" snapped the now thoroughly irritated Mr. M—.

About ten minutes later the wasp got over on the other side of the bed. There was a sudden snort, a violent exclamation, a mighty upheaval of the bedclothes. Mr. Jack M— was dancing round the floor on one foot while he held the other in his hand, and gave vent to a steady flow of picturesque interjections.

From the bed Mr. Jack C— calmly regarded his cousin's gymnastic performance, and when the verbal fireworks had sufficiently subsided for him to be heard, remarked:

"I to-o-ld you there was a wa-a-sp in the bed. He stu-u-ung me three times!"—Youth's Companion.

MOBILIZED PHONE FORCES SPEEDILY

Kingston District of New York Telephone Company Did Effective Work Over Holiday to Meet Requirements of Militia Authorities.

One of the most noteworthy achievements that has marked mobilization of the Tenth regiment along the line of the Ashokan aqueduct was performed by the Kingston district staff of the New York Telephone Company in record time and a minimum of publicity. The order to connect up the stations of the different units all along the line of the dune from Brown's Station to Vail's Gate came Sunday morning, and within three-quarters of an hour the field force was out on the job which was to be completed under the stress of severe weather conditions within the ensuing 48 hours.

Notwithstanding the fact that Sunday was followed by a holiday, the effect from militia headquarters could not have been followed with more energy than if the telephone corporation was part and parcel of the National Guard. Before Sunday night Brown's Station, Davis's Corners, Atwood, the South End of the Peak Tunnel, Shaft No. 1, a mile beyond; battalion headquarters at High Falls, Shaft No. 5, High Falls; Shaft No. 8 on the mountain north of Bonticou Tunnel; and the station at the south end of Bonticou Tunnel had been visited by the construction gangs operating from Kingston, and despite the below zero temperature Monday found all these points on speaking terms with the exchanges where the labyrinth of wires constituting the Catskill system are centered.

In regular order Captain Anderson's barracks two miles south of Bonticou Tunnel Shaft No. 3, two and a half miles north of Ireland Corners and Captain Meagher's headquarters in the Clinton Hotel at that point were connected up. Lieutenant Dittus at the Walkill Blow-Off, Major Burnett's office at St. Elmo, the barracks at St. Andrews, Coldenham where the Catskill Company is stationed and Vail's Gate, held by Lieutenant Harris and the Hudson Company, soon had telephone communication established and the speeding up of the dispatch of orders was manifest all along the line. It was great work and said to have received the personal commendation of Major General O'Riyan which it well deserved. Many compliments were bestowed upon District Manager Willis Hills for the demonstration of the efficiency of the Kingston district force in rising to a situation.

An Avis Lecture.

All bird lovers should remember the Avis lecture recital at the high school on next Tuesday evening. Many colored slides will be used showing various birds. John Burroughs, the noted naturalist, recommends Mr. Avis as one of the best bird illustrators and says he has never heard some of the songs so well rendered by human organs. An attendance even larger than last year is expected when Mr. Avis addressed an audience which practically filled the school auditorium.

Fair St. Reformed Church.

In the absence of the pastor of the Fair street Reformed Church, the pulpit will be occupied next Sunday by Dr. Frederick J. Stanley, former professor in Waseda University, Tokyo, Japan. Dr. Stanley supplied the pulpit of First Presbyterian Church of this city for several weeks and made a host of friends by his inspiring messages. No doubt large audiences will greet him at the Fair street church next Sunday.

With suitable hat and appropriate button boots, this type of frock proves ideal.

The Answer.

Three little boys were playing on the beach. One had piled and patted and enjoyed the sand into a resemblance to a racing car, another had constructed with fair success a touring car, but what the third little fellow had made was without form and void.

"What is your car?" he was asked. He looked rather uncertain until the questioner continued, "Yours looks like two or three together."

"That's what it is," he said loftily; "mine's a collision!"—New York Post.

STEEL NEEDLES RISE IN PRICE

Some One is "Always Taking the Joy out of Life" With Potatoes at 80 Cents a Peck and a Shortage in Phonograph Needles.

The price of phonograph needles has jumped from 5 cents a hundred to 10 cents a hundred, and there is a reported shortage in the supply in Kingston, which while it may be good news for some neighbors, is not causing much joy in many households when the fact is also taken into consideration, among other things, that the price of potatoes is said to have jumped to 80 cents a peck, not to mention other necessities of life.

"These were the happy days," said an old resident as he regretfully passed over 45 cents for a pound of butter today, and when questioned he said that he had been looking over some old letters and bills in the garret and among other things was reminded of the fact that not so many years ago flour was selling for $4.50 a barrel and potatoes at 40 cents a bushel while eggs had even dropped as low as ten cents a dozen, while good butter could be had for 14 cents a pound.

"And today," said the old resident, "we are paying between $9 and $10 a barrel for flour with potatoes at 80 cents a peck, and eggs selling at 55 cents a dozen and best butter at 45 cents a pound. Higher civilization seems to go hand in hand with higher prices, for every time I remark of the low prices years ago people remind me that we did not have the advantages we are enjoying today."

Masquerade Carnival.

The Children of Mary Society will hold a masquerade carnival and dance at the Immaculate Conception Hall, Delaware avenue, Saturday evening, February 17. Music by an orchestra of three pieces, under the direction of Prof. Schwalbach. Many side attractions will augment the pleasure of the evening. Prizes will be given to the nicest and most comically dressed. Refreshments will be served. This will be the biggest and last social before Lent. All young people are preparing for that evening.

An Unlucky Box.

With a crash that resounded for some distance a heavy sleigh, swinging around from the Strand into Broadway struck the large coil box located on the telegraph pole under fire alarm box No. 25, smashing it. This box has been broken many times in the past, and was only lately repaired. From present indications a new box will have to replace it. The box contains the wires and is broken often than any two other fire boxes in the city.

Accident to Fast Horse.

While Elmer Palen was driving his fast pacer, Sattie Direct, this forenoon, the animal slipped and fell at the corner of Manor avenue and Edmondson street, breaking its leg. Dr. Smith found the leg splintered and shot the animal.

Would Be a Donkey.

There was a mighty uproar in the nursery, and papa rushed upstairs to inquire into the cause. "Now, then, children, what's all this noise? Stop it at once!"

"Boohoo!" sobbed Eva. "Billy has kicked me!"

"Billy kicked you? Billy, how dare you kick your little sister? You coward, to kick a girl! Don't you know it's only donkeys that kick? If I hear of this again I'll give you tit for tat and kick you!"—Exchange.

Made It Warm.

"I got a cold supper when I went home tonight, and you bet I kicked about it."

"Did that do any good?"

"Well, my wife made it warm for me."

Just Had to Grow.

"Why are American men taller than most races?"

"It's a case of evolution."

"Huh?"

"We had to grow to reach those street car straps."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Nothing Particular.

Rosario Genova, Now in Ulster County Jail, Declares That De Dominicis Abused Him For Failing to Purchase Liquor—Dead Man Left a Family.

Rosario Genova, brought to jail in Kingston for the slaying of Emidio De Dominicis, the Italian who died in City Hospital of a bullet wound inflicted at Tongore Monday night, talked freely with reporters while in the police station at Walden where he was arrested. A search of the man disclosed a .38 calibre Smith and Wesson revolver in his pocket with two cartridges exploded. When told by Under Sheriff Hornbeck that Brown was not dead Genova became very angry and swore viciously, as he wished that he had killed Brown.

To a reporter Genova stated he had lived in this country for 30 years, 16 of which was spent at Croton, before going to Olive Bridge ten years ago, before the construction of the large reservoir for the New York city water supply at Shokan.

He said he is 57 years of age and has been married twice. His first wife died 18 months ago and six months later he was married to a woman who had since left him and was living in New York city. He said he had worked as a barber in Olive Bridge. At about 9 o'clock on Monday night while seated in the home of an Italian couple, the first names of whom are Polio and Luiga, who had moved into a house near his home about two weeks ago from Brown's Station, Jim Brown drove up and after tying his horse outside, entered the building. This Brown, Genova stated, kept a beer store at Atwood, about five miles from Olive Bridge. Brown would take orders for beer and liquor and Genova stated that after Brown failed in securing an order from the new Italians on Monday night he turned to him (Genova) and began to abuse him by calling him obscene names because he had never ordered any liquor from him. Genova stated the Italian couple told him not to notice Brown and he got up from his chair and went over to his barber shop and put some wood in the stove. A few minutes later, when he believed that Brown had gone back home, Genova started to return to his new neighbors but said he was just driving away. When the two men met in the road Genova stated he asked, "What a matter with you, Jim, tonight, you crazy?"

Names Lead to Shooting.

He then started towards Polio's house but Brown called to him to "come here" and he went back. When Brown again called him he named Genova said he got mad and pulled out his gun and told Brown to "You go or I shoot you." Brown tried to get his own gun from his pocket and Genova fired one shot down toward the road to frighten Brown, for as Genova stated, "I did not want to kill him."

When Brown did not scare and told Genova he would shoot him, Genova said he fired the second shot directly at Brown, who fell forward in the wagon or sleigh. Genova did not remember which it was. Believing he had killed the man Genova started to walk down the state road toward Kingston. He passed through Kingston about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, he stated, when the weather was dark, but found no trains running. He then started to walk a railroad track and about 1 o'clock in the afternoon came to a depot where he paid 58 cents for a ticket.

Genova said he had been operated on for appendicitis a year or so ago and showed two belts that he was compelled to wear. He stated that Jim Brown had a wife and a brother living with him at Atwood and he and Brown had known each other for five years and were not friends, as Brown was "too high toned." Genova said that Brown was about 37 years old and was a big fat fellow and had made a lot of money when the aqueduct was being built. He said he had secured a permit to have his gun. When the hundreds of Italian laborers were working at Shokan in the construction of the Shokan dam, Genova stated some nights three or four Italians would go in some of the houses or stores and show a gun and ask for $20, and if they did not get the money they would shoot to kill.

Genova said that he had never had any trouble before, as he was a good man and would go away from trouble. De Dominicis leaves a widow and three children. His funeral was held this morning.

The main principle of the American Wine & Liquor Company to obtain patronage of the public is quality only.

It was the confidence of the people that enabled us to become the largest buyers and distributors of the family trade. The genuineness of the goods is attested by the fact that they are brought directly from the makers, at home or abroad, are taken by us directly from the U. S. Bonded Warehouse and are sold to our customers at a lower rate than is usually obtainable elsewhere.

Notwithstanding the fact of considerably low prices, they decided to give away free for a week to its customers with each and every purchase as souvenirs, beautiful and useful pieces of

At dinner, the other day, a well known Kingston married man smacked his lips and with a happy smile, and said to his wife:

"Mother, every day you are becoming a better bread baker. This bread is delicious."

"No, papa," answered the wife, "there's no more bread-baking for me—not when I can buy loaves so good that you believe they're mine."

Only a few days previously she had begun buying from one of our deliveries

KINGSTON, N. Y., FEB 16, 1917.

Kingston has a well organized military company now performing active service for the state. During its absence families of some members may suffer hardships which it will become the privilege of citizens to relieve. True philanthropy is quiet effective when accomplished quietly. Neither those who give nor those who receive should be heralded with brass bands. "To whom much is given, of them will much be required." On the other hand, the service now being performed by the usual bread-winner, if for no other reason, entitles the recipient to the veil of secrecy. This double-barreled plan has been followed up to date; any other plan cannot succeed. Those who give should not and probably do not wish to be likened to the Pharisee whose good deeds were blazoned that the door might be admitted of men—of their means they are required by their conscience to give liberally. Equally applicable to the owner of great wealth as to the man of modest means is the phrase of a famous American poet who said: "Not what you give but what we share, for the gift without the giver is bare." The United States is facing a military situation whose seriousness or duration cannot be estimated. To force philanthropy and advertise charity is to bring to the boiling point the blood of every red-blooded American citizen, aside from the testing demoralizing effect. True philanthropy should flow as unstrained, as free and as pure as the milk in the mountain-side, and the path to the spring should be well guarded. The spring should have many sources, which also should not be without guards. The feeders should be both big and little. A practical way to provide a fund for soldiers' relief which would not be burdensome and might be welcomed by many would be: give a weekly payment system regulated to the giving ability of the donor. Ten cents, fifteen cents, twenty cents, a quarter, half dollar or dollar a week, pledged indefinitely—as such a pledge should be—would provide a fund in which everyone could share and whose size would be a dependable resource on which any committee could rely for necessities either for the soldiers or their families which were indicated by Captain Meagher, the man in the best position to know the facts and circumstances surrounding each case, and sharing a fund secured in such a manner would be far more acceptable to those required to draw upon it. Such a fund would not relieve anyone of the requirement to give according to his means, nor would it shut out any contribution because of its humble size. Insurance companies, banks, publishers of magazines and books have found the weekly payment plan successful because it appeals to persons of all sizes of incomes. Why wouldn't it be successful in providing a systematic and dependable source for the soldiers' fund?

It is customary and proper to cry out against the grafter who cheats the public, but the meanness of the species is to be found in private life, the grafter who grafts upon the time of others. The telephone has furnished a new avenue of approach for all such. It is now a simple matter to connect up with an unsuspecting victim and by dint of a little flattery and by-play, outline a course of action which said victim usually follows in a desperate endeavor to rid himself of the telephone pest. Among offenders in this direction are some of the members of the clergy of the city who in their anxiety to serve God, not only seek publicity as is perfectly proper, but go to the trouble of telephoning in messages of interminable length just at a time of day when the daily news current is at "peak load." Not only are such practices inconsiderate but they constitute a serious source of damage and delay to any editorial organization. It is not that the notices are unwelcome but rather it is the manner and time of their transmission that offend. A little forethought and these items could be written out and mailed or sent in to reach the department for which they are intended in plenty of time for publication. Co-operation is becoming a much used word of late. We desire to call it to the attention of the clergy and others as surpassing even charity in some of its direct benefits.

It is not related what the King of France and his ten thousand men thought of the usefulness of their excursion up and down the hill. At any rate they may have benefited from the exercise. It is the same with the heights of legislation unwittingly scaled by agile aldermen in the more recent phases of the church-theater controversy. Their descent, effected by the executive branch of city government, was as graceful as the ascent was rapid. Now that we are back on common ground, it may not be amiss to venture a few reflections. The dilatory tactics of the city fathers are not altogether responsible for the delays in recording definite action on the question. The preliminary position of the petitioners, who had an idea of what they wanted but apparently had no workable plan for accomplishment, shares largely in the responsibility. Their experience should be a lesson to them and to others who clamor for a reform without being able to define their demands so that they may be included in a comprehensive ordinance. There should be some benefit accruing from all the exercise, vocal, instrumental and pedal which thus far has constituted the sole achievement in this clash between church and theater.

City Girl—"That hen is acting very queerly, just as though she were hatching a plot." Country Maiden—"On the contrary, she is plotting a hatch."—Baltimore American.

"There is remarkable enthusiasm over prohibition," "Yes," replied Mr. Chuggins. "It looks to me as if the old water wagon had been speeded up for a regular joy ride."—Washington Star.

An English millitant crusader stropped into a barn where a young man was milking a cow. With a scowl she asked: "How is it that you are not at the front, young man?" "Because, ma'am," answered the milker, "there ain't no milk at that end."—Boston Transcript.

Truly Belcherite.

In a certain southern city there lives a bachelor, whom we will call Mr. Jack C—, who had the reputation of being the slowest man in town. Indeed, his friends doubt whether any other town can produce a man who could compete with him in deliberation.

One night in the autumn, just at the time when country dwellers are attracted by the moon, came into the house to seek protection from the cold. Mr. Jack C— and his cousin, Mr. Jack M—, who is of a very different temper, stopped overnight at a farmhouse where they had to share a double bed.

Upon retiring, Mr. Jack M— promptly fell into a doze, from which he was shortly roused by the restless movements of his bed mate. He growled out:

"What's the matter, Jack?" To which he received the drawing reply:

"Well, e-e-e, Jack, there's a wa-a-asp in this bed."

"You just imagine there's a wasp in the bed," was the sharp rejoinder. "Keep still and go to sleep."

The conversation subsided, and Mr. Jack M— fell into another refreshing doze. About five minutes later his cousin's drawing voice penetrated his consciousness:

"Jack, there is a wa-a-asp in this bed."

"No such thing! Shut up and let me sleep!" was the reply, in a wrathful voice.

SOLDIERS MAY SHOOT SOMEBODY

But it Will Probably be Some Innocent Farmer or Pedestrian—Likely to Pump Shot Into a Farm House—"Strange Lights" Explained.

Out of town newspapers are carrying wild yarns on the front pages lately concerning strange lights flashing along the Ashokan reservoir line, which is being guarded by the soldiers of the national guard, and of some of the soldiers pumping lead in the general direction of the "strange lights." As a result of alarm caused by these "strange lights" along the aqueduct a soldier in an Albany company was fatally shot the other night by a comrade as told in The Freeman at the time.

It seems to have escaped the general knowledge of the soldiers, the "war" correspondents and the out of town newspapers that the country through which the pipe line runs is not a wilderness like unto the central part of Africa, but is inhabited by a highly intelligent class of people who have lived there long before the Ashokan reservoir was ever thought of.

Soldiers firing wildly at "strange lights" are likely to lead to unforeseen complications, and it would not be at all surprising to hear any day of some farmer or pedestrian being shot down. Nor would it be surprising to hear of a squad of the soldiers pumping lead into a farm house through which a "strange light" was seen shining.

It has been the custom from time immemorial for farmers to carry lighted lanterns from the house to the barn when feeding the stock and looking up for the night. These farm houses are scattered all along the line of the aqueduct and if some sense is not driven into the "noddies" of the soldiers a farmer will probably be taken for some one determined to blow up the aqueduct and be shot down. The same thing applies to pedestrians who have a right to the use of the highway, whether it runs alongside a pipe line or not, at any time of day or night.

Farm houses are scattered all along the line of the aqueduct and if some sense is not driven into the "noddies" of the soldiers a farmer will probably be taken for some one determined to blow up the aqueduct and be shot down. The same thing applies to pedestrians who have a right to the use of the highway, whether it runs alongside a pipe line or not, at any time of day or night.

Unless the men in command of the soldiers take ordinary precautions and warn their men to use plain ordinary common sense there is likely to be some terrible fatality before the soldiers are called away from their duty of guarding the pipe line, and some innocent man or woman is likely to meet an untimely end unless steps are taken to prevent it.

HENRY BRUERE

FORMER CITY CHAMBERLAIN TO TABULATE UNITED STATES LOSSES.

Henry Bruere and a corps of trained accountants accompany Ambassador Fletcher to Mexico City for the purpose of tabulating the losses of United States citizens caused by the revolutions that have torn the country asunder since the Maderistas started to force Porfirio Diaz from the presidential chair.

Mr. Bruere was formerly city chamberlain of New York city and is considered one of the ablest accountants in the country. The huge task of gathering the necessary figures on which the United States will base her claims will be under his direction.

Come on you Stromboli!

Twenty thousand men cheer the favorite as he thunders down the home-stretch. As he flashes under the wire they puff excitedly on their cigarettes.

It's easy to see what cigarette is the favorite.

In the crowd at the race track, in every crowd, you'll find the men around you smoking Mecca.

The reason is this—

Mecca is a real man's smoke.

The blend of flavory Turkish and American tobaccos gives Mecca the character men look for in a cigarette.

A poor horse can't win. Neither can a poor cigarette.

Mecca has won its place as the goal of all cigarette smokers. It is winning more and more friends every day. Already it has won several million.

An egg bag of crocheted cotton is useful to hold the eggs in, saves difficulty in getting them out of the water and also saves breakage.

The Unlaid Eggs

The grain-fed hen usually carries a number of unlaid eggs—yolks which she cannot complete into eggs and lay, because her feed lacks the necessary white-forming nutrients. (That's why egg-yolks are found in a hen, when it is dressed). Many of these yolks of unfinished eggs are finally absorbed back into the hen's system.

Missouri Experiment Station tests showed that 100 lbs. of wheat, corn, oats, barley and kafir corn make (above bodily maintenance) an average of 224 yolks and only 154 whites. Based on data from the same experiments.

Purina formulas produce, (above bodily maintenance) as follows:

Purina Scratch Feed 247.49 yolks 142.11 whites
Purina Chicken Chowder 182.05 " 282.55 "

Combined Ration 429.54 yolks 424.66 whites

These feeds, used in combination, form the most perfectly balanced and economical egg-producing you can buy. Purina Chicken Chowder is the egg-completing ration; containing exactly the right feed elements to make the necessary whites. That's why we can positively guarantee

MANY SHIPS WILL SAIL FOR EUROPE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Feb. 16.—Shipping circles here sprang to activity today on information that the British government will inspect eastbound neutral vessels at Halifax instead of at Kirkwall, thus allowing them better opportunity to escape German submarines in the waters around the British Isles. Preparations immediately were made by numerous lines to send out ships tonight and tomorrow which have been held here all of this week. The Anchor Line Tuscania, with 18 passengers, among whom were four Americans, was first to get under way. She slipped down the bay and headed northward for inspection before proceeding to Glasgow.

The Swedish-American liner Stockholm with 46 passengers, and the Carlsholm, a big freighter, expected to get away later.

The Kerr Steamship Company which last week dispatched two American freighters, the Rochester and Orleans, through the barred zone, announced that five more vessels will be sent out of New York port next week. Each will carry million dollar cargoes.

The Holland-American Line plans to dispatch both the Noordam and Ryndam to Rotterdam when word, expected hourly, is received from the home office.

Numerous smaller lines were busy making arrangements for a resumption of sea traffic. By next week, it was predicted, boats will be coming into and going out of New York harbor with regularity. The news that shipping will be resumed, even on a limited scale, was hailed joyfully by railroad men and many large food supply houses, whose stocks were running low. The freight congestion will be materially relieved here and allow some of the tied-up freight cars to go back westward for relief of congested conditions in mid-western cities.

NEW POLICE MACHINE GUN.

PICKED POLICEMEN GUARD NEW YORK'S STREETS.

Ten machine guns have been received by the New York police department and 120 picked men, all of whom have had previous service in the army and navy, are being drilled in their use. This is a part of the elaborate plan for preparedness in the event of war with Germany. The guns can be used against rioters or against an invading force with equally deadly results.

Lefty Himalaya.
Himalaya, in south central Asia, is the most elevated and stupendous mountain system on the globe. It is not, as sometimes represented, a single chain, but a system, consisting of several parallel and converging ranges, with a vast number of rugged, snowy peaks, separated by great elevated valleys and plateaus. On the north the system descends to the elevated plateau of Tibet, on the south to the depression drained by the Ganges and the Indus. The system starts with the Karakoram, in the Pamirs, whence it trends southeast and east, sweeping in a broad curve, convex, southward. The mass of the Himalaya proper extends from the great bend of the Indus in the west to the great bend of the Brahmaputra in the east, a distance of nearly 1,500 miles.

First Horse Omnibus.

The first horse omnibus was seen in the neighborhood of Nantes in 1826 and ran to facilitate access to a bathing establishment which a M. Baudry had set up in the outskirts of that town.

"The name of these vehicles," M. Baudry said, "shall be omnibus—that is to say, open to all." The venture was so successful that a limited company was formed to inaugurate a similar enterprise in Paris. The Parisian experiment was at first a failure, but after its originator had manifested his disappointment by drowning himself in the Canal St. Martin others reaped a rich harvest from his ideas.

No Immediate Benefits.

Things looked black for the dramatist. For the fourth time in one season a play had been withdrawn after a week's run.

"Cheer up, old man," said a consoling friend. "Perhaps posterity will recognize the genius displayed in your plays."

"Marble," said the dramatist bitterly, "but the difficulty is that so far as I am concerned posterity is on the free list."—New York Times.

Talleyrand.

Talleyrand's conservatism was summed up by a witty compatriot, Paul de Courrier, who on one occasion declared that if Talleyrand had been present at the creation he would have exclaimed: "Good gracious! Chaos will be destroyed!"

BIG GUNS AND RUINED VILLAGE ON SOMME.

Above is a picture of one of the big French guns that has been booming out its song of death to the Germans who attempted to recapture the ground lost on the Somme.

Note the houses ruined by shell fire and the length of barrel of the heavy field rifle.

Ready Response.

"I'm seeing America first," said the tramp at the door. "Could you assist me in my travels, mum?" "Certainly," answered the kindly housewife. "My husband is an automobile enthusiast and has dozens of road maps. You are quite welcome to one of them."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Shrewd Bobby.

"Here's a nickel, dear, for doing that errand for me." "Make it 5 pennies, please, auntie." "Why, child, the amount is the same." "Yes, but a nickel comes in too handy when mamma wants to go and telephone somebody."—Boston Transcript.

HOPE.

Hope is the most beneficial of all the affections and doth much to the prolongation of life if it be not too often frustrated, but entertaineth the fancy with an expectation of good.—Bacon.

Strictly Correct.

"Why, Grace," exclaimed an old friend, "are you going to be married next week? You are a base deceiver. Why, you told us only a few days ago that you were booked for a personally conducted tour with a small, select party."

A Kind Husband.

Mrs. Flatbush—Oh, dear! Mr. Flatbush—What's wrong now? "Oh, I read today that if the earth were to revolve seventeen times faster than it does bodies at the equator would lose their weight and remain stationary in the air without support." "Don't worry, dear. If we ever get there I'll support you just the same."—Yonkers Statesman.

MOBILIZED PHONE FORCES SPEEDILY

Kingston District of New York Telephone Company Did Effective Work Over Holiday to Meet Requirements of Militia Authorities.

One of the most noteworthy achievements that has marked mobilization of the Tenth regiment along the line of the Ashokan aqueduct was performed by the Kingston district staff of the New York Telephone Company in record time and a minimum of publicity. The order to connect up the stations of the different units all along the line of the Ashokan aqueduct was received at the Kingston office at 10:30 a. m. on Sunday morning, and within three-quarters of an hour the field force was out on the job which was to be completed under the stress of severe weather conditions within the ensuing 48 hours.

Notwithstanding the fact that Sunday was followed by a holiday, the direction from militia headquarters could not have been followed with more energy than if the telephone corporation was part and parcel of the National Guard. Before Sunday night Brown's Station, Davis's Corners, Atwood, the South End of the Peak Tunnel, Shaft No. 1, a mile beyond, battalion headquarters at High Falls, Shaft No. 5, High Falls, Shaft No. 8 on the mountain north of Bonticou Tunnel and the station at the south end of Bonticou Tunnel had been visited by the construction gangs operating from Kingston, and despite the below zero temperature Monday found all these points on speaking terms with the exchanges where the labyrinth of wires constituting the Catekill system are centered.

In regular order Captain Anderson's barracks two miles south of Bonticou Tunnel Shaft No. 3, two and a half miles north of Ireland Corners and Captain Meagher's headquarters in the Clinton Hotel at that point were connected up. Lieutenant Dillius at the Wallkill Blow-Off, Major Burnett's office at St. Elmo, the barracks at St. Andrews, Catekillham where the Catekill Company is stationed and Vail's Gate, held by Lieutenant Harris and the Hudson Company, soon had telephone communication established, and the speeding up of the dispatch of orders was manifest all along the line. It was great work and said to have received the personal commendation of Major General O'Ryan, which it well deserved. Many compliments were bestowed upon District Manager Willis Hills for the demonstration of the efficiency of the Kingston district force, in rising to a situation.

An Aris Lecture. All bird lovers should remember the Aris lecture held at the high school on next Tuesday evening. Many colored slides will be used showing various birds. John Burroughs, the noted naturalist, recommends Mr. Aris as one of the best bird imitators, and says, "he has never heard, some of the songs so well rendered by human organs. An attendance even larger than last year is expected when Mr. Aris addresses an audience which practically uses the school auditorium."

Pastor St. Reformed Church. In the absence of the pastor of the Fair street Reformed Church, the pulpit will be occupied next Sunday by Dr. Frederick J. Stanley, former professor in Waseda University, Tokyo, Japan. Dr. Stanley supplied the pulpit of this city for several weeks and made a host of friends by his inspiring messages. No doubt large audiences will greet him at the Fair street church next Sunday.

It is estimated that 25 per cent of halibut and from 20 to 30 per cent of salmon are included in the entrails, head, tail, etc.

By La Raconteuse.

Charming summer frocks are fashioned in georgette crepe, and those developed in flesh color are particularly lovely. Already models for the southern trip, too, are on display, one more charming than the other. Imagine a flesh-colored frock designed to show the latest draped silhouette and daintily embroidered in flesh color. With suitable hat and appropriate button boots, this type of frock proves ideal.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Feb. 15.—Invitations have been issued for an "old time gathering" of Knights and their families to be held at castle hall on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock. The Knights celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Knights of Pythias Insurance Department and the 53d anniversary of the order Knights of Pythias. A fine banquet will be served.

The Port Jervis High School basketball team play the local high school team at Norbury Hall this Friday evening. Dancing will follow the game. Mance's orchestra will furnish the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ripper entertained a company of friends at a Valentine party at their home on Main street Wednesday evening. Following an hour or more at games very delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Aimee Derby entertained fifty of her young friends at a Valentine party at Edgebrook Club House Wednesday evening in honor of her birthday.

The Answer.

Three little boys were playing on the beach. One had piled and patted and cajoled the sand into a resemblance to a racing car, another had constructed with fair success a touring car, but what the third little fellow had made was without form and void.

"What is your car?" he was asked. He looked rather uncertain until the questioner continued, "Fours looks like two or three together."

"That's what it is," he said loftily; "mine's a collision!"—New York Post.

SKILLYPOT WILL TAKE A VACATION

That unique craft, the Skillypot, by which ice and submarines are alike ignored and which for several years has given the best service that can be given between Rondout and Sleightsburgh, will take a few days vacation, beginning on Monday, February 19, and lasting until her engine has been overhauled. The Skillypot's vacation has been arranged for at a time when the last inconvenience to the public will result, as the creek may now be crossed on the ice. This is in conformity to the policy of the management, which has given such a greatly improved service in recent years.

Seventy-two men drilled Thursday night at the weekly meeting of the Clinton Guards and much interest was displayed. Old School Baptist Meeting.

There will be Old School Baptist meeting at the home of Orville Winchell, 58 Smith avenue, Saturday evening, February 17, at 8 o'clock. Elder George Ruston of New York will preach. All are welcome.

Boys and Girls.

The difference is apparent early: A boy has as much fun in stoning a cat as a girl has in hunting for violets. A boy's curiosity is directed to the box; a girl would like to see what is in the top bureau drawer.

A girl can give the impression when away from home that her parents are wealthy; a boy cannot.

Every boy is old enough to be welcome to sit in the neighbor girl's parlor many years before his sister thinks he is old enough to sit in the parlor at home.

A girl is never so young that she will reveal to guests at a party that the spoons are borrowed; a boy child never grows so old that he fails to.

Give the boy a dollar and he will eat it; give his sister one and she will wear it.

A brother and sister may have hair of the same shade, but the boy's is called red and the girl's auburn.

When brothers fight it is over the larger share of pie; when sisters quarrel one has worn something belonging to the other without asking permission.—Youth's Companion.

The Famous Moslem Kaaba.

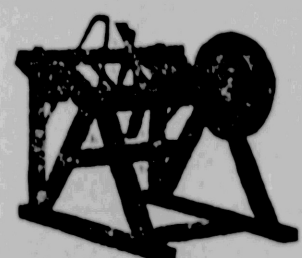

It is a curious fact that the Kaaba, which is one of the great attractions to the pilgrims who go to Mecca and Medina, antedates Mohammed as an institution and consequently is of pagan origin. It is a small building, in one wall of which is set the famous black stone, probably a meteorite, which the pilgrims all seek to kiss. The structure has actually been rebuilt more than once since Mohammed, but its old pagan form has been preserved. It was originally a heathen temple, of such standing among the Arabs that Mohammed felt compelled to adopt it into his new religion and even to permit the continuance of ancient customs concerning it. He did destroy the idols it contained, but he made a great concession to the old prejudices of his converts by making the observance of an old pagan feast of Mecca one of the five great precepts of the new faith.

A charming combination is featured here in this rose linen and white crepe frock. The upper portion is fashioned in smock effect of the rose linen, as is the skirt border. White embroidery serves appropriately as trimming, forming loops and frocks in front. The introduction of the white crepe is especially interesting, since it makes the frock less bulky and very heavy.

Pets and Pot Names.

"The most graceful of domestic animals is the cat, while the most awkward is the duck," says an observer of nature. But it won't do to use these facts for a basis if you want to call a woman pet names.

Glue.

Glue for woodwork which will withstand damp can be made by using the ordinary carpenter's sheet glue and melting it in the inner vessel of a glue pot, but using linseed oil instead of water.

Patriotism.

In peace patriotism really consists only in this—that every one sweeps before his own door, mends his own business, also learns his own lesson, that it may be well with him in his own house.—Goethe.

STEEL NEEDLES RISE IN PRICE

Some One is "Always Taking the Joy out of Life" With Potatoes at 30 Cents a Peck and a Shortage in Phonograph Needles.

The price of phonograph needles has jumped from 5 cents a hundred to 10 cents a hundred, and there is a reported shortage in the supply in Kingston, which while it may be good news for some neighbors, is not causing much joy in many households when the fact is also taken into consideration, among other things, that the price of potatoes is said to have jumped to 30 cents a peck, not to mention other necessities of life.

"Those were the happy days," said an old resident as he regretfully passed over 45 cents for a pound of butter today, and when questioned he said that he had been looking over some old letters and bills in the garret and among other things was reminded of the fact that not so many years ago flour was selling for $4.50 a barrel and potatoes at 40 cents a bushel while eggs had even dropped as low as ten cents a dozen, while good butter could be had for 14 cents a pound.

"And today," said the old resident, "we are paying between $9 and $10 a barrel for flour with potatoes at 30 cents a peck, and eggs selling at 55 cents a dozen and best butter at 45 cents a pound. Higher civilization seems to go hand in hand with higher prices, for every time I remark of the low prices years ago people remind me that we did not have the advantages we are enjoying today."

Masquerade Carnival.

The Children of Mary Society will hold a masquerade carnival and dance at the Immaculate Conception Hall, Delaware avenue, Saturday evening, February 17. Music by an orchestra of three pieces, under the direction of Prof. Schwalbach. Many side attractions will augment the pleasure of the evening. Prizes will be given to the wisest and most comically dressed. Refreshments will be served. This will be the biggest and best social before Lent. All young people are preparing for that evening.

An Unlucky Box.

With a crash that resounded for some distance a heavy sleigh, swinging around from the Strand into Broadway struck the large coil box located on the telegraph pole under fire alarm box No. 25, smashing it. This box has been broken many times in the past, and was only lately repaired. From present indications a new box will have to replace it. The box contains the wires and is broken oftener than any two other fire boxes in the city.

Accident to Fast Horse.

While Ismer Palen was driving his fast pacer, Saddle Direct, this forenoon, the animal slipped and fell at the corner of Manor avenue and Elmendorf street, breaking its leg. Dr. Smith found the leg splinted and shot the animal.

Would Be a Donkey.

There was a mighty uproar in the nursery, and papa rushed upstairs to inquire into the cause. "Now, then, children, what's all this noise? Stop it at once!"

"Boohoo!" sobbed Eva. "Billy has kicked me!"

"Billy kicked you? Billy, how dare you kick your little sister? You coward, to kick a girl! Don't you know it's only donkeys that kick? If I hear of this again I'll give you tit for tat and kick you!"—Exchange.

Made It Warm.

"I got a cold supper when I went home tonight, and you let I kicked about it."

"Did that do any good?"

"Well, my wife made it warm for me."

Just Had to Grow.

"Why are American men taller than most races?"

"It's a case of evolution."

"Huh!"

"We had to grow to reach those street car straps."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

EVIL AND HATE.

"Do good to those who hate you" is based on a scientific fact. To do evil is to bring destructive elements upon your own character. When our eyes are really opened self preservation will make us turn out of the house of our mind such guests as evil and hate.—R. W. Trine.

C. OF C. OFFICES TO BE UP-TO-DATE

Word of repairing and renovating the new quarters of the Chamber of Commerce at the corner of Thomas street and Broadway is well under way. John Dunner, whose bid for the carpentry contract was low, will have the doors and windows changed and new mouldings placed this week.

Parent-Teachers' Associations.

This evening at eight o'clock, and not this morning as stated in last night's Freeman, all of the Parent-Teacher Associations of the several schools of the City of Kingston will hold a very interesting meeting at the High School. This meeting will be the occasion of celebrating the 20th anniversary of the formation of "Mothers' Clubs," the forerunner of the present Parent-Teacher Associations, and similar exercises to those to be held at the High School will occur all over the country.

Tonight's program will include an address on "Some Phases of Child Welfare," delivered by Richard Coons, of New York city; vocal selection by quartet, composed of Mrs. George Low, soprano, Mrs. John Van Valkenberg, contralto, William Williams, tenor, and William Anderson, bass; piano duet, played by the Misses Carter; recitation by Miss Janet Brown; folk dance, "The Gipsy," given by Helen Dwyer. There will be no admission, but a silver collection will be taken to defray the expenses of the evening.

Religious Fervor Congealed.

Forcing the fire at the Methodist Church drove the water out of the boiler, which cracked when cold water struck it and spoiled several sections. There was no service then Sunday night and it will probably be several weeks before repairs are completed. The water pipes supplying the Reformed Church froze up and it has been necessary to dig them out and replace them.—Ellenville Press.

DeWitt, of the provisional industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce, has called a meeting of the committee for 7:30 o'clock tonight at the chamber rooms at which time an industrial policy will be formulated based on the opinions recently secured from members in the "Write-It-Down" canvass.

Mount Etna.

Mount Etna is one of the great volcanoes of the earth. In size it would cover the entire metropolitan district of New York and the surrounding counties. Its height is 11,000 feet above sea level. As to its power, one of its eruptions some centuries ago killed 50,000 people, which is probably more than Vesuvius has ever done in all its existence as a volcano, not excepting the great eruption of 79 A. D., which destroyed the cities of Herculaneum and Pompeii. As to its beauty, this is also very difficult to describe. It is teeming with life, animal and vegetable, and is snow covered one-half the year. The other half it is bare to its very summit.

Game of Pig Bones.
One of the pet games played by Russian children is known as babki, or pig bones. It is similar to the American game of toppling, but the bones of a pig's leg are used. On the vast Russian estates, where the peasants make many of the toys for the masters' children, the bones from the legs of pigs are thus utilized.

G. A. HART & CO.

KINGSTON, N.Y.

ALLEGED SLAYER TELLS OF QUARREL

Rosario Genova, now in Ulster County Jail, declares that De Dominicis Abused Him For Failing to Purchase Liquor—Dead Man Left a Family.

Rosario Genova, brought to jail in Kingston for the slaying of Emilio De Dominicis, the Italian who died in City Hospital of a bullet wound inflicted at Tongore Monday night, talked freely with reporters while in the police station at Walden where he was arrested. A search of the man disclosed a .38 calibre Smith and Wesson revolver in his pocket with two cartridges exploded. When told by Under Sheriff Hornbeck that Brown was not dead Genova became very angry and swore viciously, as he wished that he had killed Brown.

To a reporter Genova stated he had lived in this country for 30 years, 16 of which was spent at Croton, before going to Olive Bridge ten years ago, before the construction of the large reservoir for the New York city water supply at Shokan.

He said he is 57 years of age and has been married twice. His first wife died 18 months ago and six months later he was married to a woman who had since left him and was living in New York city. He said he had worked as a barber in Olive Bridge. At about 9 o'clock on Monday night while seated in the home of an Italian couple, the first names of whom are Polio and Luigi, who had moved into a house near his home about two weeks ago from Brown's Station, Jim Brown drove up and after tying his horse outside, entered the building. This Brown, Genova stated, kept a beer store at Atwood, about five miles from Olive Bridge. Brown would take orders for beer and liquor and Genova stated that after Brown failed in securing an order from the new Italians on Monday night he turned to him (Genova) and began to abuse him by calling him obscene names because he had never ordered any liquor from him. Genova stated the Italian couple told him not to let Brown and he got up from his chair and went over to his barber shop and put some wood in the stove. A few minutes later, when he believed that Brown had gone back home, Genova started to return to his new neighbors but said he met Brown just driving away. When the two men met in the road Genova stated he asked, "What a matter with you, Jim, tonight, you crazy?"

Names Lead to Shooting.

He then started towards Polio's house but Brown called to him to "come here" and he went back. When Brown again called him had names, Genova said he got mad and pulled out his gun and told Brown to "try to get or I shoot you." Brown tried to get his own gun from his pocket and Genova fired one shot down toward the ground to frighten Brown, for as Genova stated, "I did not want to kill him."

When Brown did not scare and told Genova he would shoot him, Genova said he fired the second shot directly at Brown, who fell forward in the wagon or sleigh. Genova did not remember which it was. Believing he had killed the man Genova started to walk down the state road toward Kingston. He passed through Kingston about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, he stated, when everything was dark, but found no trains running. He then started to walk a railroad track and about 1 o'clock in the afternoon came to a depot where he paid 53 cents for a ticket.

Genova said he had been operated on for appendicitis a year or so ago and showed two belts that he was compelled to wear. He stated that Jim Brown had a wife and a brother living with him at Atwood and he and Brown had known each other for five years and were not friends, as Brown was "too high toned." Genova said that Brown was about 37 years old and was a big fat fellow and had made a lot of money when the aqueduct was being built. He said he had secured a permit to have his gun. When the Italian laborers were working at Shokan in the construction of the Shokan dam, Genova stated some nights three or four Italians would go in some of the houses or stores and show a gun and ask for $20, and if they did not get the money they would shoot to kill.

Genova said that he had never had any trouble before, as he was an old man and would go away from trouble. De Dominicis leaves a widow and three children. His funeral was held this morning.

At Cor. BROADWAY AND STRAND

The main principle of the American Wine & Liquor Company to obtain patronage of the public is quality only.

It was the confidence of the people that enabled us to become the largest buyers and distributors of the family trade. The genuineness of the goods is attested by the fact that they are brought directly from the makers, at home or abroad, are taken by us directly from the U. S. Bonded Warehouse and are sold to our customers at a lower rate than is usually obtainable elsewhere.

Notwithstanding the fact of considerably low prices, they decided to give away free for a week to its customers with each and every purchase as souvenirs, beautiful and useful pieces of

TRY IT YOURSELF!

At dinner, the other day, a well known Kingston married man smacked his lips and with a happy smile, and said to his wife:

"Mother, every day you are becoming a better bread baker. This bread is delicious."

"No, papa," answered the wife, "there's no more bread-baking for me—not when I can buy loaves so good that you believe they're mine."

Only a few days previously she had begun buying from one of our deliveries

CORDS FAIR CLOSING TONIGHT

Assistant Fire Chief Murphy to Speak on Fire Prevention—Arrangements Are Made to Wind up Fair in Blaze of Glory.

Tonight the Cordis Hose Company fair at the engine rooms on Delaware avenue will close with a blaze of glory, and the fire boys are using every effort to make this last night the best of the fair. Assistant Fire Chief Joseph Murphy will be present and speak on "Fire Prevention" and as usual John Schick and his sister will furnish excellent music for dancing.

Thursday night was another big night at the fair with a large attendance, the boys of Excelsior Hose Company attending in a body. During the evening Captain E. J. Hornbeck, clerk of the fire board, spoke, and Lewis Roberts gave a finely executed clog dance.

The fire boys deserve great credit for the success of the fair, and their efforts to make every one who visits the fair feel at home. The social end has been an unqualified success and the financial end has also been exceptionally good. It is expected that a fine sum will be realized by the boys by their efforts.

ATHLETICS HOLD BOARDS AT K. H. S.

Throughout the two seasons during which the Midgets of the high school have been playing basketball they have never really met their match with teams of the same size, but a game has been scheduled for Washington's birthday in this city which promises to put them to the acid test. The opponents will be the Midgets of the Christian Brothers' Academy, a Catholic Day School of Albany, which has held the championship of the Midget class of the capital district for three years, not having lost a game until this year, when they won fourteen of the fifteen games played. Though their season closed a short while ago, they were nevertheless eager to accept the challenge of the locals.

The Kingston Midgets have a record every bit as good as the up-staters. All last year they had matters their own way on the courts of this district and were conquered this year in only one of the ten games played. Their victors were the Pentagon Five of this city, composed of much larger boys, these they trounced later in a return game. The teams they have beaten are the following: Pentagons, No. 2 school, Monticello, Red Hook, All Stars of the Kingston Grammar School League, Catskill Boy Scouts and the Young Americans of Hudson. In the ten games the kids have rolled up a total of 466 points, while holding down their opponents to 218.

Following is the squad: Forwards, Martin, Schoonmaker and Smith; center, Quick and Smith; guards, McAndrew, Captain Kirchner and Nickerson. Martin leads in the individual scoring, closely followed by Schoonmaker and Kirchner. The regulars and points scored by each are as follows:

	FB	FP	TP
Martin	52	15	119
Schoonmaker	41	4	92
Kirchner	35	12	83
Smith	29	5	63
McAndrew	19	5	43
Quick	8	1	17

The following substitutes and the points scored by them are as follows: Nickerson, 4; Foster, 12; Koenig, 8; Phillips, 6; Joyce, 6; Dwyer, 5; Goldberg, 4; Cashin, 3; Horton, 2.

Football Had a Revival.

Football was revived at K. H. S. for forty minutes Wednesday afternoon when members of the Junior and Senior classes of the school went through all the evolutions of a gridiron battle while engaged in a basketball contest which finally ended in a bitter fight in victory for the seniors, the score being 32 to 7. The finer points of the game were thrown to the winds as a result of the close rivalry of the two classes and many of the fall sport never shone so brilliantly at their game than did the scrappy school boys in this indoor melee. It was a good game to look at. Though there was a shortcoming of team and pass work there was no slouching by the players and everyone put up a game fight. Most of the material available from which the two classes could select their team had little experience on the school court, the school ruling prohibiting the varsity players from taking part in the game. However, they all quickly got acquainted with their surroundings.

At the end of the first half the Juniors were leading by a score of 16 to 13, but in the final period the better team-work of the older lads won out. Fouls were plentiful, both sides making an equal number of points in this way. Dwyer of the Seniors had the best eye of the crowd and hung up eighteen points for his five. Reynolds at center played a hard game for the winners. Betts and Connolly did a large share of the work for the Juniors, Connolly scoring thirteen points.

Both contingents had strong rooting forces on the side lines. It is very likely that in order to determine which class has the best basketballers several more matches will be played in the future, the sophomores being especially eager for a try at the laurels.

The line-up was as follows:

Rosendale Lost Game.

When the varsity five of this city got through bombarding the basketball representatives of the village of Rosendale at the Casino of that place Wednesday night they had piled up the one-sided score of 63 to 4, the worst drubbing the town team has received in a long while. The Rosendalers were kept busy watching their opponents do stunts with the ball, so much so in fact, that they had little time to themselves. They considered themselves lucky to get off with a field basket and two fouls.

Some pretty classy material from the high school was recruited to fill the varsity ranks and stirred up the village by their good playing. Dolson, Kierman and Johnson all enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Mr. O'Neill referred the game, which had a rather poor attendance. The line-up:

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

As a number of the participants in the Athletic Association Minstrels scheduled for the 21st of this month could not take part as that evening happens on Ash Wednesday, the date has been changed to March 9. It matters not whether the moguls decide to hold it a month from now, there is sure to be a good crowd present, so promising are the rehearsals. The proceeds will be devoted to the school athletic fund.

Time-wrinkled vets of balmy days who are still sojourning under their Alma Mater's protecting wing as post-graduates, impelled by the fierce inter-class basketball battle between the Juniors and Seniors Wednesday, have challenged the Seniors to a duel for any old time when these youngsters feel inclined to accept. Of course, there is no doubt in the minds of the P. G.'s as to the outcome of a game with their would-be opponents as the advantage of one extra year of schooling is sufficient to win even basketball battles.

"Blessings on the gent that invented school institutes," is the general opinion of the student body, who were informed by Principal Moulton Thursday that on Thursday and Friday of next week there would be no school for this reason—the first break in the regular routine for four long weeks.

SOLDIERS MAY SHOOT SOMEBODY

But it Will Probably be Some Innocent Farmer or Pedestrian—Likely to Pump Shot Into a Farm House—"Strange Lights" Explained.

Out of town newspapers are carrying wild yarns on the front pages lately concerning strange lights flashing along the Ashokan reservoir line, which is being guarded by the soldiers of the national guard, and of some of the soldiers pumping lead in the general direction of the "strange lights." As a result of alarm caused by these "strange lights" among the aqueduct a soldier in an Albany company was fatally shot the other night by a comrade as told in The Freeman at the time.

It seems to have escaped the general knowledge of the soldiers, the "war" correspondents and the out of town newspapers that the country through which the pipe line runs is not a wilderness like unto the central part of Africa, but is inhabited by a highly intelligent class of people who have lived there long before the Ashokan reservoir was ever thought of.

Soldiers firing wildly at "strange lights" are likely to lead to unforeseen complications, and it would not be at all surprising to hear any day of some farmer or pedestrian being shot down. Nor would it be surprising to hear of a squad of the soldiers pumping lead into a farm house, through which a "strange light" was seen shining.

It has been the custom from time immemorial for farmers to carry lighted lanterns from the house to the barn when feeding the stock and looking up for the night. These farm houses are scattered all along the line of the aqueduct and if some sense is not driven into the "boodles" of the soldiers a farmer will probably be taken for some one determined to blow up the aqueduct and be shot down. The same thing applies to pedestrians who have a right to the use of the highway, whether it runs alongside a pipe line or not, at any time of day or night.

Farm houses are scattered all along the line of the aqueduct and naturally are lighted up at night and the shades drawn. "Strange lights" seen flashing along the pipe line may easily and undoubtedly be houses lit up, drawing down and pulling up the shades in the house.

Unless the men in command of the soldiers take ordinary precautions and warn their men to use plain ordinary common sense there is likely to be some terrible fatality before the soldiers are called away from their duty of guarding the pipe line, and some innocent man or woman is likely to meet a untimely end unless steps are taken to prevent it.

Come on you Stromboli!

Twenty thousand men cheer the favorite as he thunders down the home-stretch. As he flashes under the wire they puff excitedly on their cigarettes.

It's easy to see what cigarette is the favorite.

In the crowd at the race track, in every crowd, you'll find the men around you smoking Mecca.

The reason is this—

Mecca is a real man's smoke.

The blend of flavorful Turkish and American tobaccos gives Mecca the character men look for in a cigarette.

A poor horse can't win. Neither can a poor cigarette.

Mecca has won its place as the goal of all cigarette smokers. It is winning more and more friends every day. Already it has won several million.

The Unlaid Eggs

The grain-fed hen usually carries a number of unlaid eggs—yolks which she cannot complete into eggs and lay, because her feed lacks the necessary white-forming nutrients. (That's why egg-yolks are found in a hen when it is dressed). Many of these yolks of unlaid eggs are finally absorbed back into the hen's system.

Purina formulae produce, (above bodily maintenance) as follows:
 Purina Scratch Feed 247.49 yolks 142.11 whites
 Purina Chicken Chowder 182.05 " 282.55 "
 Combined Ration 429.54 yolks 424.66 whites

These feeds, used in combination, form the most perfectly balanced and economical egg-producing ration you can buy. Purina Chicken Chowder is the egg-completing ration containing exactly the right feed elements to make the necessary whites. That's why we can positively guarantee it.

More eggs or money back on Purina Chicken Chowder if fed with Purina Scratch Feed as directed. You take no risk. Write for further information and for our FREE Poultry Book (64 pages, illustrated).

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 15.—Shipping circles here sprang to activity today on information that the British government will inspect eastbound neutral vessels at Halifax instead of at Kirkwall, thus allowing them better opportunity to escape German submarines in the waters around the British Isles. Preparations immediately were made by numerous lines to send out ships tonight and tomorrow which have been held here all of this week. The Anchor Line's Tuscania, with 18 passengers, among whom were four Americans, was first to get under way. She slipped down the bay and headed northward for inspection before proceeding to Glasgow.

The Swedish-American liner Stockholm with 46 passengers, and the Carlsholm, a big freighter, expected to get away later.

The Kerr Steamship Company which last week dispatched two American freighters, the Rochester and Orleans, through the barred zone, announced that five more vessels will be sent out of New York port next week. Each will carry million dollar cargoes. Line plans to dispatch both the Noordam and Ryndam to Rotterdam, word, expected hourly, is received from the home office.

Numerous smaller lines were busy making arrangements for a resumption of sea traffic. By next week, it was predicted, boats will be coming into and going out of New York harbor with regularity.

The news that shipping will be resumed, even on a limited scale, was hailed joyfully by railroad men and many large food supply houses, whose stocks were running low. The freight congestion will be materially relieved here and allow some of the tied-up freight cars to go back westward for relief of congested conditions in mid-western cities.

NEW POLICE MACHINE GUN
PICKED POLICEMEN GUARD NEW YORK'S STREETS.

Ten machine guns have been received by the New York police department and 120 picked men, all of whom have had previous service in the army and navy, are being drilled in their use. This is a part of the elaborate plan for preparedness in the event of war with Germany. The guns can be used against rioters or against an invading force with equally deadly results.

Laffy Himalaya.

Himalaya, in south central Asia, is the most elevated and stupendous mountain system on the globe. It is not, as sometimes represented, a single chain, but a system, consisting of several parallel and converging ranges, with a vast number of rugged, snowy peaks, separated by great elevated valleys and plateaus. On the north the system descends to the elevated plateau of Tibet, on the south to the depression drained by the Ganges and the Indus. The system starts with the Karakoram, in the Pamirs, whence it trends southeast and east, sweeping in a broad curve, convex, southward. The mass of the Himalaya proper extends from the great bend of the Indus in the west to the great bend of the Brahmaputra in the east, a distance of nearly 1,500 miles.

First Horse Omnibus.

The first horse omnibus was seen in the neighborhood of Nantes in 1823 and ran to facilitate access to a bathing establishment which a M. Baudry had set up in the outskirts of that town. "The name of these vehicles," M. Baudry said, "shall be omnibus—that is to say, 'open to all.'" The venture was so successful that a limited company was formed to inaugurate a similar enterprise in Paris. The Parisian experiment was at first a failure, but after its originator had manifested his disappointment by drowning himself in the Canal St. Martin others reaped a rich harvest from his ideas.

No Immediate Benefits.

Things looked black for the dramatist. For the fourth time in one season a play had been withdrawn after a week's run.

"Cheer up, old man," said a consoling friend. "Perhaps posterity will recognize the genius displayed in your plays."

"Marble," said the dramatist bitterly, "but the difficulty is that so far as I am concerned posterity is on the free list."—New York Times.

Talleyrand.

Talleyrand's conservatism was summed up by a witty compatriot, Paul de Courrier, who on one occasion declared that if Talleyrand had been present at the creation he would have exclaimed: "Good gracious! Chaos will be destroyed!"

Ready Response.

"I'm seeing America first," said the tramp at the door. "Could you assist me in me travels, mum?"

"Certainly," answered the kindly housewife. "My husband is an automobile enthusiast and has dozens of road maps. You are quite welcome to one of them."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

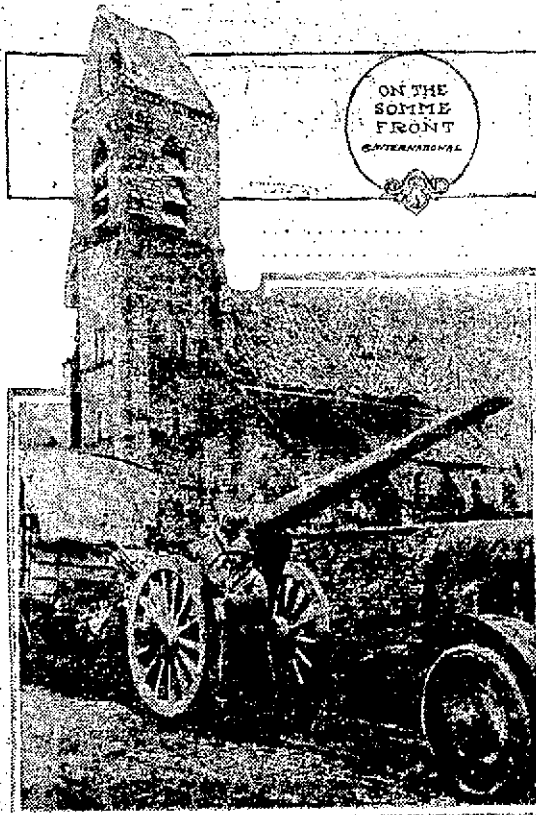

Shrewd Bobby.

"Here's a nickel, dear, for doing that errand for me."

"Make it 5 pennies, please, auntie."

"Why, child, the amount is the same."

"Yes, but a nickel comes in too handy when mamma wants to go and telephone somebody."—Boston Transcript.

BIG GUNS AND RUINED VILLAGE ON SOMME.

Above is a picture of one of the big French guns that has been booming out its song of death to the Germans who attempted to recapture the ground lost on the Somme.

Note the houses ruined by shell fire and the length of barrel of the heavy field rifle.

HOPE.

Hope is the most beneficial of all the affections and doth much to the prolongation of life if it be not too often frustrated, but entertaineth the fancy with an expectation of good.—Bacon.

Strictly Correct.

"Why, Grace," exclaimed an old friend, "are you going to be married next week? You are a base deceiver. Why, you told us only a few days ago that you were booked for a personally conducted tour with a small, select party."

"Yes, dear," answered Grace, smiling sweetly, "Jack is the personal conductor, and I'm the small, select party."

A Kind Husband.

Mrs. Flatbush—Oh, dear! Mr. Flatbush—What's wrong now? "Oh, I read today that if the earth were to revolve seventeen times faster than it does today at the equator would lose their weight and remain stationary in the air without support." "Don't worry, dear. If we ever get there I'll support you just the same."—Yonkers Statesman.

SKILLYPOT WILL TAKE A VACATION

That unique craft, the Skillypot, by which ice and submarines are alike ignored and which for several years has given the best service that can be given between Rondout and Sloatsburg, will take a few days vacation, beginning on Monday, February 19, and lasting until her engine has been overhauled. The Skillypot's vacation has been arranged for at a time when the last inconvenience to the public will result, as the creek may now be crossed on the ice. This is in conformity to the policy of the management, which has given such a greatly improved service in recent years.

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, Feb. 15.—Dr. A. A. Stern of Kingston was a visitor in town on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dickhaut and daughter, Betty, have returned from a visit in Oswego, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Crump of Brooklyn are guests of Mrs. Herman Peters on Elm street.

William Rogers and John Fellows of New York city attended the funeral of the late John S. Fellows, which took place this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Genio Gouchius of Livingston street are visiting relatives in Brooklyn.

Guards to Aid Suff's Work.

Seventy-two men drilled Thursday night at the weekly meeting of the Clinton Guards and much interest was displayed. At the instance of Captain Fowler, of the Relief Committee, a sum of money was contributed for the purchase of cigars and tobacco for the members of Company M in line with a similar work that is being pushed by the Suffragists' Association.

Old School Baptist Meeting.

There will be Old School Baptist meeting at the home of Orville Winchell, 58 Smith avenue, Saturday evening, February 17, at 8 o'clock. Elder George Huston of New York will preach. All are welcome.

Boys and Girls.

The difference is apparent early: A boy has as much fun in stoning a cat as a girl has in hunting for violets. A boy's curiosity is directed to the ice-box; a girl would like to see what is in the top bureau drawer.

A girl can give the impression when away from home that her parents are wealthy; a boy cannot.

Every boy is old enough to be welcomed to sit in the neighbor girl's parlor many years before his sister thinks he is old enough to sit in the parlor at home.

A girl is never so young that she will reveal to guests at a party that the spoons are borrowed; a boy child never grows so old that he fails to.

Give the boy a dollar and he will wear it, give the girl one and she will wear it.

A brother and sister may have hair of the same shade, but the boy's is called red and the girl's Auburn.

When brothers fight it is over the larger share of pie; when sisters quarrel one has worn something belonging to the other without asking permission.—Youth's Companion.

The Famous Moslem Kaaba.

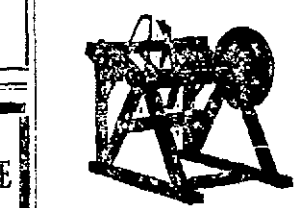

It is a curious fact that the Kaaba, which is one of the great attractions to the pilgrims who go to Mecca and Medina, antedates Mohammed as an institution and consequently is of pagan origin. It is a small building, in one wall of which is set the famous black stone, probably a meteorite, which the pilgrims all seek to kiss. The structure has actually been rebuilt more than once since Mohammed, but its old pagan form has been preserved. It was originally a heathen temple, of such standing among the Arabs that Mohammed felt compelled to adopt it into his new religion and even to permit the continuance of ancient customs concerning it. He did destroy the idols it contained, but he made a great concession to the old prejudices of his converts by making the observance of an old pagan feast of Mecca one of the five great precepts of the new faith.

A charming combination is featured here in this rose linen and white crepe frock. The upper portion is fashioned in smock effect of the rose linen, as is the skirt border. White embroidery serves appropriately as trimming, forming loops and frogs in front. The introduction of the white crepe is especially interesting, since it makes the frock less bulky and very heavy.

FINE WEEK-END SPECIALS AT Planthaber's Saturday

If money were the measure of happiness, it would follow that he who possessed a million dollars would surely be one million times as happy as he who had but $1.00. But neither rich nor poor can find happiness without health. Pure foods help to health and contentment. We find happiness in contributing to the health and contentment of mankind one valuable aid—wholesome, pure, nutritious Groceries and Meats. The worldman enjoys here the same advantages that the man of thousands is accorded. We don't make "fish of one and flesh of another." Each gets the same helpful service and pays the identical modestly low prices.

Measuring Misfortune.
"I'm making more fuss about losing a nickel than I'd make about losing a hundred dollars."
"Boss," said the boy, "you've got the wrong idea. The chances are you've lost another hundred. But this was my last nickel. I ain't want you lose that makes the difference; it's what I've got left."—Washington Star.

Judged by Appearances.
"You can't always judge by appearances."
"I just had a costly demonstration of that fact. Because I saw Flotdub chewing a toothpick I thought it would be safe to invite him to lunch. But he went right along and bawled me up for an expensive lot of crock."—Kansas City Journal.

PENSION SYSTEM A POPULAR PLAN

Telephone Workers Hear of Advantages of Pension, Health, Accident and Life Insurance as Carried on by New York Telephone Company.

Ninety employees of the New York Telephone Company listened to a comprehensive outline of that corporation's insurance, pension and bonus systems Thursday evening in Junior Order Hall on Henry street. The speaker was John S. Kennedy of New York, secretary of the benefit fund committee of the eastern group of Bell companies, the meeting being held by the local branch of the Hudson section of the Telephone Society of New York.

Among those present were District Manager Willis Hills, Division Superintendent of Construction E. H. Greenleaf, Division Superintendent of Maintenance J. H. Dodge of Albany, District Traffic Chief G. O. Munnab of Kingston and other employees from various exchanges included in the district.

Now the benefits of the company's system are preferable to anything offered under the workmen's compensation law was illustrated by Mr. Kennedy. There was no assessment on the individual employee, a fund of $3,114,829 having been set aside from the company surplus to maintain this system. Old age pensions, benefits for sickness or disability, life and accident insurance are all included under the plan which has been described at length in these columns. In the four years during which the plan has been in operation, the expenditures have aggregated $3,579,386. At the end of the year 1916, 288 former employees were on the pension rolls. During the past year there was expended from the benefit funds $1,800,000 for pensions and accident and sickness, disability benefits and death benefits. In the eastern group there was expended for the purposes of the plan during the last four years $1,247,384.

Mr. Kennedy touched upon these features, not omitting the bonus system, under which approximately $2,000 was distributed a few weeks ago to employees in the Hudson valley district.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

The will of John L. Jones of the town of Woodstock has been filed in the surrogate's court and a citation for its probate was issued returnable March 5. To his wife, Jane Jones, the testator bequeaths all moneys on deposit in savings banks, in this city and all joint deposits, and in the event of her prior death he gives such moneys to his two sons, Stewart Jones and Walter G. Jones. All household effects are given to the wife. The real estate is given to Stewart Jones on condition that he provides a home for his mother and within two years pays his brother, Walter G. Jones, $1,500, which payment is made a charge against real estate. Kate S. MacGregor, a sister-in-law, is provided with a home and board on the farm until her marriage. In the event of the death of Stewart Jones, his property is devised to his children, subject to the above conditions. The two sons are appointed executors. The will was executed May 2, 1916, and witnessed by John C. Kamp and William J. Greene, both of Woodstock. The value of the real estate is $1,500 and the personal property amounts to $1,500. Van Eilen & Cook appeared for the executors.

SUGGESTS OF NEWS.

Unusual Events Briefly Told in Telegraph Despatches.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Jersey City, N. J.—"What is the constitution of the United States?" "Rugged and healthy," answered Gus Johnson, Russian Finn applicant for naturalization papers. He didn't get the papers.

Lime Rock, Conn.—Wilful neglect was the charge against James McGuire.

"Take your wife to the movies once a week or go to jail," was the sentence of Judge Cowles.

New York—"I'll go back to him if he will—concede the allies will win," said Mrs. H. Decker, Russian, in Domestic Relations Court.

"I'll never do that," answered Decker, German. They were granted a divorce.

Mayor Receives an Heirloom.

Mayor Canfield has been presented by Dr. Fred Huhne with a very interesting old book. It bears the publishing date of 1814 and is a book of Virgil as translated by Alon's Blumauer. On the inside cover are printed the words, "Appartenant A. G. F. Van Beck de Strasbourg," indicating that the book was the property of George F. Von Beck. Major Von Beck was Mayor Canfield's great-grandfather. Dr. Huhne had been given the book by his father, to whom it had been given by Major Von Beck.

Purely Surface Indications.

Charlotte came into the yard looking very sweet and pretty and quite conscious of the fact.

"I am prettier than you, ain't I?" she said to a man who was working in the yard.

"That depends on how you behave," he replied. "If you don't behave you won't be pretty."

She looked him over critically, expressing his conclusion. "My, but you must have been naughty," Christian Hearn.

George Sand.
It was from Leonard Jules Sandeau, the celebrated French novelist and dramatist, born at Aubusson a century ago, that another and far greater writer derived her nom de plume. When a young student in Paris Sandeau made the acquaintance of Mme. Dudenant, and during a short lived friendship they collaborated in a novel, "Rose et Blanche," which was published in 1831.

Then they parted, but Mme. Dudenant, while relinquishing Sandeau's friendship, took to herself a portion of his name and elected to be known thenceforth as George Sand—Pall Mall Gazette.

Decidedly Quiser.
Observant Kidney. Look at that funny man, mother. He's sitting on the sidewalk talking to a banana-peel!—Griff.

Pretty Heavy Umbrellas.
The great objection to umbrellas 100 years ago was their weight, and when it is stated as a matter of fact that the very smallest umbrella then weighed no less than three and a half pounds it will probably be admitted that the objection was a justifiable one. Instead of the thin rainproof fabrics which now form the covering of umbrellas nothing better was known than leather or oiled cloth. The ribs were of wood or whalebone, and such a thing as a steel rod was, of course, unknown. The stick was usually of heavy oak. In those days, too, many umbrellas had the additional inconvenience of feathers over the top on the theory of "shedding water off a duck's back."

SOUND STEAMER
DESTROYED BY FIRE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 16.—Fire of a mysterious origin broke out in the engine rooms of the steamer City of Stamford at her pier here today and burned the craft to the water's edge. The end of the recreation pier at the foot of Market street where the boat was moored was also damaged by fire.

The City of Stamford, owned by the Fall River Line, plies between New York and Stamford, Ct. Arriving here at 8 o'clock this morning with a cargo of cotton goods, but a portion of her freight had been removed when the fire broke out. The boat was warped out of her berth into the middle of the East River where streams from three fireboats were played upon her.

Everybody should know that milk is an excellent pain killer," says Frank and Firsides. "First, because it gives almost immediate relief and, second, because milk or cream is nearly always available. If a person should get far in the eyes, put in a few drops of milk or cream. It will also afford great relief if cement or a gum should get in the eyes."

Hen and Water.

From the hen's viewpoint, water is worth just as much as feed, for she can't make an egg with either one alone. Therefore the man who provides high priced feed, but neglects the water supply, is making a big mistake and will have to be content with a hatched egg field.

CORONETS FAIR
CLOSES TONIGHT

Assistant Fire Chief Murphy to Speak on Fire Prevention—Arrangements Are Made to Wind up Fair in Blaze of Glory.

Tonight the Coronets Fire Company fair at the engine rooms on Delaware avenue will close with a blaze of glory, and the fire boys are using every effort to make this last night the best of the fair. Assistant Fire Chief Joseph Murphy will be present and speak on "Fire Prevention" and as usual John Schick and his sister will furnish excellent music for dancing.

Thursday night was another big night at the fair with a large attendance, the boys of Excelsior Hose Company attending in a body. During the evening Captain B. J. Hornbeck, clerk of the fire board, spoke, and Lewis Roberts gave a highly executed clog dance.

The fire boys deserve great credit for the success of the fair, and their efforts to make every one who visits the fair feel at home. The social end has been an unequalled success, and the financial end has also been exceptionally good. It is expected that a fine sum will be realized by the boys by their efforts.

ATHLETICS HOLD
BOARDS AT K. H. S.

Throughout the two seasons during which the Midgets of the high school have been playing basketball they have never really met their match with teams of the same size, but a game has been scheduled for Washington's birthday in this city which promises to put them to the acid test. The opponents will be the Midgets of the Christian Brothers' Academy, a Catholic Day School of Albany, which has held the championship of the Midget class of the capital district for three years, not having lost a game until this year, when they won fourteen of the fifteen games played. Though their season closed a short while ago, they were nevertheless eager to accept the challenge of the locals.

The Kingston Midgets have a record every bit as good as the upstarts. All last year they had met their own way on the courts of this district and were conquerors there. In only one of the ten games played. Their victors were the Pentagon Five of this city, composed of much larger boys; these they trounced later in a return game. The teams they have beaten are the following: Pentagons, No. 2 school, Monticello, Red Hook, All Stars of the Kingston Grammar School League, Catskill Boy Scouts and the Young Americans of Hudson. In the ten games the kids have rolled up a total of 466 points, while holding down their opponents to 218.

Following is the squad: Forwards, Martin, Schoonmaker and Smith; center, Quick and Smith; guards, Meador, Captain Kitchner, and Nickerson. Martin leads in the individual scoring, closely followed by Schoonmaker and Kitchner. The regulars and points scored by each are as follows:

	FB	FP	TP
Martin	52	15	119
Schoonmaker	41	4	92
Kitchner	55	12	83
Smith	29	5	63
Meador	19	5	47
Quick	8	1	17

The following substitutes and points scored by them are as follows: Nickerson, 1; Foster, 12; Koenig, 5; Phillips, 6; Joyce, 5; Dwyer, 5; Goldberg, 4; Cashin, 3; Horton, 2.

Football Had a Rehearsal.

Football was rehearsed at K. H. S. for forty minutes Wednesday afternoon when members of the Junior and Senior classes of the school went through all the evolutions of a gridiron battle while engaged in a basketball contest which finally ended in a bitter fight in victory for the latter grade, the score being 22 to 0.

The final points of the game were thrown to the winds. The game was a close rivalry as a result of the close rivalry of the two classes and the fall sport never shone more brightly at the game than did the spring school boys in this district. It was a good game to watch. Though there was a shutting of team and pass work there was no slouching by the players and everyone put up a game fight. Most of the material available from when the two classes could select their teams had little experience on the school court. The school officials are limiting the varsity players from taking part in the game. However, they all quickly got acquainted with their surroundings.

At the end of the first half the Juniors were leading by a score of 16 to 10, but in the final period the better team-work of the older lads won out. Points were plentiful, both sides making an equal number of points in this way. Dwyer of the Juniors had the best eye of the crowd and hung up eighteen points for his fire. Reynolds at center played a hard game for the winners. Belts and Connolly did a large share of the work for the Juniors, Connolly scoring thirteen points.

Both contingents had strong footling forces on the side lines. It is very likely that in order to determine which class has the best basketballers several more matches will be played in the future, the sophomores being especially eager for a try at the ball.

Rosebush Last Game.

When the varsity five of this city got through bombarding the basketball representatives of the village of Rosebush at the Casino of that place Wednesday night they had piled up the one-sided score of 57 to 4, the worst drubbing the town team has received in a long while. The Rosebushers were kept busy watching their opponents do stunts with the ball, so much so in fact, that they had little time to themselves. They considered themselves lucky to get off with a field basket and two fouls.

Some pretty class material from the high school was recruited to fill the vacant ranks and stirred up the village by their good playing. Dolan, Kitchner and Johnson all came to themselves thoroughly. Mr. O'Neill referred the game, which had a rather poor attendance. The line-up:

The country is simply a flame for these beautiful and bewitching garments.

Therefore, you will appreciate our connection with the WOOLTEX and FAMOUS PRINTZESS, undoubtedly the best known and most talked-of makers of coats and suits for young women.

As a number of the participants in the Athletic Association Minstrel scheduled for the 21st of this month could not take part as that evening happens on Ash Wednesday, the date has been changed to March 9. It matters not whether the moguls decide to hold it a month from now, there is sure to be a good crowd present, so promising are the rehearsals. The proceeds will be devoted to the school athletic fund.

Time wrinkled vets of halmy days who are still sojourning under their Alma Mater's protecting wing as post-graduates, impressed by the fierce inter-class basketball battle between the Juniors and Seniors Wednesday, have challenged the Seniors to a duel for any old time when these youngsters feel inclined to accept. Of course, there is no doubt in the minds of the P. G.'s as to the outcome of a game with their would-be opponents as the advantage of one extra year of schooling is sufficient to win even basketball battles.

"Blessings on the gent that invented school institutes," is the general opinion of the student body, who were informed by Principal Moulton Thursday that on Thursday and Friday of next week there would be no school for this reason—the first break in the regular routine for four long weeks.
